DEADLOCK CONTINUES IN VOTING FOR DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

After Seventh Ballot, it is Announced That Convention Will Recess Following Tenth Ballot

NIGHT SESSION TO BE HELD

McAdoo and Smith Show No More Strength Than Their Managers Claim for Them in First Ballots

18 CANDIDATES IN VOTING

Most of Favorite Sons Must be Shaken Off Before Anything Tangible Can be Realized

(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, June 30.—The deadlock on the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention continued hard after the first seven ballots this afternoon. It was understood at 2:30 p. m. that the plan at this time was to continue until ten ballots are taken. This would take the session about to five o'clock when a recess would be taken until eight o'clock. During the three hour intermission there will be a series of conferences and marked changes with the elimination of several favorite sons as anticipated.

McAdoo and Smith showed no more strength than their managers claimed for them through the first seven ballots.

Total votes cast on the seventh ballot, 1,098. Smith 261; McAdoo 442 3-5; Cox 59; J. W. Davis 55; Glass 25; Ralston 30; Robinson 19; Underwood 42; Bryan 18; Richey 19 9-10; Davis 30; Robinson 8; Harrison 20; Silser 28; Saulsbury 6; Ferris 30; Thompson 1; Walsh 1.

Chairman Walsh announces at 3:50 o'clock that "about five o'clock we are taking a short recess." It is assumed there will be a recess from five to eight o'clock.

At the conclusion of the sixth ballot, Senator Pat Harrison took the chair and read to the convention a United Press dispatch from Washington announcing the indictments of former Secretary of the Interior Fall, Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doherty and his son.

"This is testimony of the magnificent work of your permanent chairman", Harrison said and when he had concluded reading the United Press dispatch, cheers and applause answered from the floor and galleries.

The band played and the delegates settled down to take one more ballot.

Smith showed a gain of from 241 on the first to 255 on the third. McAdoo lost 1098.

FARMER LIVING NEAR GLENWOOD SENTENCED

Forrest Brooks Sent to Penal Farm for Unlawfully Manufacturing and Selling Liquor

A SEQUEL TO HIS ARREST

Forrest Brooks, a farmer living on the Rush-Fayette county line, on the Fayette side, near Glenwood, was arrested Saturday afternoon by officers from that county, following a raid, when a 50 gallon still was captured and six barrels of mash found under the hog house.

Brooks pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Hindle in the circuit court, and was fined $250 and costs and given a 90 day sentence at the state farm on a charge of unlawfully manufacturing and selling liquor.

The search at the Brooks farm was the outgrowth of a nearest Friday night in Connersville when Corwin Young of that city was arrested with a ten gallon jug of liquor. He pleaded guilty also to a charge of transporting liquor and was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of from one to two years.

It was stated that Young was a booze runner for the Glenwood man. He was trapped by the police at Connersville as he was preparing to deliver the ten gallons of liquor. In the struggle with the police, he escaped, and was shot through the foot. In jail he attacked the sheriff, but was subdued.

Bayonets of Guardsmen Glean Among Ruins as Visible Evidence of Martial Law that is Imposed

(By United Press)

Lorain, Ohio June 30.—The death toll in Lorain mounted to 69 today with the death of three patients in hospitals and the finding of six more bodies.

As rescue work proceeded rapidly under the leadership of the national guard and Red Cross, Governor Vic Donahey called a conference in Columbus for 3 o'clock this afternoon to make a program for state-wide relief.

Amidst the shattered wreckage of her northern towns and villages, Ohio today sought the full death toll from the ten minute tornado which devastated Lorain and Sandusky and caused approximately 90 deaths.

Bayonets of national guardsmen gleamed among the ruins here, visible evidence of martial law imposed in the wake of the storm to check

CLAYTON WOLVERTON WIRES HE IS SAFE

Former Rushville Man, Living at Sandusky, O., Sends Word to Mother He Escaped Injury

JOHN RYAN AT CEDAR POINT

So far as could be learned today, no one from this city was killed or injured in the severe wind and rain storm that swept northern Ohio late Saturday afternoon, doing considerable damage at Cleveland, Sandusky and Lorain.

Mrs. Laura Wolverton, 732 North Main street, received a message Sunday morning from her son, Clayton Wolverton of Sandusky, in which the message stated that he and his wife were safe, but that they had suffered property damage. Seven lives were lost at this city.

Some anxiety was at first felt for the safety of John Ryan, son of Donny Ryan of this city, who is spending the summer at Cedar Point, another place on Lake Erie, which was in the path of the storm. Newspaper accounts, however, do not account for any lives lost at this place, and it is believed that the Rushville young man is safe.

FIRST PICTURES OF THE DAMAGE BY OHIO STORM

Procured under the most unusual difficulties through its agent, the NEA Service, the Daily Republican is able today to present the first pictures of the wreckage in the wake of the storm which swept through Northern Ohio Saturday night. At dawn Sunday, before one-fourth of the dead and injured had been removed from the ruins, NEA service photographers were in airplanes over the devastated town of Lorain, and on foot along the streets, amid sputtering electric wires and falling buildings. Their pictures were rushed to Cleveland by airplane, prepared for NEA service client newspapers, and sent by special delivery mail today.

vandalism and the threatened spread of smallpox.

As though artillery duels of Flanders had swept the lake front, trees lay uprooted, houses were in tangled heaps, roads were impassable and church steeples had toppled, while through the area of destruction waned relatives escorted by armed soldiers, still sought piteously for missing relatives and friends.

Lorain bore the full brunt of the sudden storm which hopped about crazily Saturday evening, striking first Attna, then Leaping Sandusky, then to Lorain and spending its fury across the orchards of West Dover and Avon.

"The situation beggars description," Governor Donahey wired his secretary, Jacob Meekstroth, at Columbus. "Conditions here are not understood by the citizens of Ohio. Call immediate conference of prominent Columbus business men to confer with me at 3 p. m., today for program of state-wide relief for Lorain. Order immediately 500 oil stoves of two or three burners and make arrangements for delivery here as soon as possible.

"The state guard and naval reserves are doing splendid work here under Brig. General McQuigg. I am leaving Lorain at once for Columbus."

The governor indicated that following the conference he will issue a proclamation calling upon the entire state to come to the relief of Lorain.

IN WAKE OF OHIO TORNADO

Lorain—Sixty-nine known dead. Property damage estimated $15,000,000.

Sandusky—Seven dead, damage estimated $1,000,000.

Mantua—Three killed in collapse of barns.

Cleveland—Two killed.

Akron—One killed.

Youngstown—One killed.

Medina—Two swept from flooded bridge and drowned.

JURY OUT THIRTY HOUR, DISAGREES

Discharged Saturday Night After Unsuccessful Attempt to Settle Wilson Liquor Case

THE SECOND DISAGREEMENT

Third Trial Will be Pressed, According to Prosecutor—May Term of Court Comes to End

The jury that failed to agree in the alleged liquor law violation case, was held out for 30 hours, before special Judge Freeman Miller gave them their liberty, and the affair gave a fitting climax to the court term which ended when the jury was discharged.

The jurors stood 9 to 3 for conviction, it was intimated, and Gates Ketelum, prosecuting attorney, stated today that on account of the closeness of the balloting, that the case would be pushed for trial again in September, and a third effort made to convict.

The jury was given the case Friday morning at eleven o'clock and after remaining out all night, was not discharged until shortly before six o'clock Saturday night.

Several court matters ended the court term Saturday. Judge Sparks made a ruling in the Dolan case, in which Beatrice Dolan had brought suit for a divorce from Vern Dolan, and on which the defendant was given

THREE DEATHS FROM SWIMMING IN STATE

Those Drowned, or Killed While in Water, Between Ages of 12 and 13—Two Bodies Recovered

DIVER AMONG THE DEAD

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 30.—Three deaths from swimming parties over the state were reported today.

Those drowned or killed while swimming were boys between 12 and 18 years old. Bodies of two have been recovered.

Searchers today prepared to dynamite the White River near here in an attempt to force the body of Carl Holtman, 18, to the surface. Holtman was drowned Friday night and his body is still unlocated.

Bedford Barnes, 12, went to his death in a treacherous swimming hole near Avon, Ind.

Charles Bench of Elwood was killed when he dived into a shallow hole in the Pendleton swimming pool.

15 Accidental Deaths

Chicago, June 30.—Fifteen persons met death in accidents over the weekend.

Nine persons were killed in auto wrecks.

Six persons were drowned in Lake Michigan and other bodies of water in and near Chicago.

BUY CAMBRIDGE CITY MILL

Rush County Mills Will Make Purcity Flour in Own Plant

Floyd Kirklin and Lawrence Clark, proprietors of the Rush County Mills, have purchased the Eagle flour mill at Cambridge and will again make Purcity flour in their own mills. The mill was sold by William Cretz, who has been making flour for many years and has built up a large trade. Mr. Clark will operate the Cambridge City mill and Mr. Kirklin will be in charge of the local enterprise.

The Rush County Mills have become wholesalers on a large scale, and deal not only in flour, grain and feeds, but also wholesale some groceries. They intend to enlarge their local plant and conduct a complete wholesale grocery house within a year.

DESECRATION OF DAY CRITICIZED

Rushville Ministers Condemn Working of Morgan Street Paving Project on Sunday

SERMONS OF LOCAL PASTORS

Evening Service at First Baptist Church Marks Close of Daily Vacation Bible School

Rushville ministers severely criticized the desecration of the Sabbath Day, in their pulpits Sunday evening, after the Andrew Asphalt company, which has the contract for paving Morgan street had a force of men at work all day on the street.

A large steam roller was being used Sunday morning near the C. I. & W. railroad crossing, less than a block from St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church and little more than a block from the First Presbyterian church.

Walter R. Thomas, mayor said today that he knew of no way to stop the company from working on Sunday, because the contractors have full charge of the street until it is completed.

The mayor said that there had been so much complaint about the paving having been delayed, that the company was anxious to complete the contract as soon as possible.

The Rev. L. E. Brown, Sunday night repeated his sermon of the last previous Sunday evening on the subject, "Parents as Their Daughters See Them," due to a rain storm preventing many people from hearing the sermon the first time it was delivered.

The Sunday evening service at the First Baptist church was devoted to the Daily Vacation Bible school, which has been in progress during June. It was a demonstration of the regular daily program of the school.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson preached a Fourth of July sermon at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning depicting the religious background out of which has grown the great nation whose birthday will be celebrated next Friday.

The Rev. H. W. Hargett discussed the weather in his morning sermon using it as a figure standing for something that can not be changed.

First Presbyterian

Rev. Gibson Wilson spoke Sunday morning on the subject: "American Independence and Christian Liberty," showing their relation to our national birthday on July Fourth.

He used as his text 2 Chron. 13-12: "Behold God himself is with us for our captain and his priests with sounding trumpet to call alarm against you, O children of Israel fight ye not against the Lord God of our fathers for ye shall not prosper."

He pointed out that faith in God meant supremacy. He illustrated this in the life of Gregory the Great. Also Augustine would have been unknown but for his taking Christianity to the Anglo Saxons. From his labors went out many missionaries, among them Columba who founded the church among the Scots.

He also showed the supremacy of Christian principles which related themselves to American independence and continued in part as follows:

"John Calvin gave to Christianity the great idea of the equality of the ministry and laity. He admitted the laity to a share in church government

PARADE PLAN FOR THE 4TH IS ANNOUNCED

Pageant Will be Spectacular Feature of Modern Woodman State Log Rolling and Celebration

COMPOSED OF 3 DIVISIONS

Will Form in West Second Street and Third Streets and Buena Vista Avenue and Move at 1 p. m.

WILL TERMINATE AT PARK

Address by Senator James E. Watson and Drill Events For Lodge Teams Will Follow

Detailed plans for the big Fourth of July parade were announced today by the committee in charge, and the line-of-march has been decided upon and the meeting places for the various contingents selected.

The parade will be the feature attraction for the afternoon Friday, and will be held in connection with the 25th annual state log rolling of the Modern Woodman lodge.

All business, religious, and fraternal organizations in Rush county, and adjoining counties have been asked to take part in the pageant, and if the committees have overlooked anyone, they do not want them to feel slighted, but request a large turnout.

The parade will move promptly at one o'clock from Second and Buena Vista Avenue, and terminate at Memorial Park, where Senator James E. Watson will deliver the address for the afternoon.

The parade will move east in Second street to Main, then south in Main street, around the court house, returning to Main and Second streets, and then north to Ninth, and west in Ninth to the park.

The following order will be followed in the parade, and participants are urged to take note, in order to be acquainted with the meeting place for each division:

The procession will be headed by three ex-World War Veterans, a sailor, marine and soldier, acting as color bearers. Soldiers in uniform will follow. Then the marshals of the day on mounts will come. Senator Watson in a machine will be next in the line of march, followed by the Indianapolis News Newsboy's band.

After the band will follow the hundreds of Modern Woodmen in uniform, comprising the various teams of the state that will compete in the prizes for drills and other forestry events.

All of the above will comprise the first division, and they will assemble in West Second street, west of the avenue.

The second division will be headed

FOUR REVOLVERS AND AMMUNITION STOLEN

Robbers Cut Small Hole in Window of Morris Hardware Store and Pull Guns Out With Wire

ALSO BOXES OF CARTRIDGES

Four revolvers and several boxes of cartridges and shells were stolen from the window of the John B. Morris hardware store during the night, it was discovered this morning when Earl Reagle, a clerk at the store, opened the place for business.

The robbers cut a small piece of glass out of one corner of the window and pulled the weapons and ammunition out with a wire. The wire was left in the window, indicating that the burglars left in haste.

The police have no clue to the burglary.

The four revolvers stolen were a .32 Colt's, four-inch barrel Police Positive; .32 Colt's automatic; .38 Iyer-Jonson and .32 H. & R.

Several boxes of cartridges and one box of shells that had been ordered special for a customer were taken. The four revolvers were worth $75.

GET AT THE CAUSE!

Many Rushville Folks are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day aches, the sufferer is tormented and when with the burning and stinging, the attendant backache, headache and dizziness, life is indeed a burden. Don't Pills—a standard diuretic for the kidneys—have brought peace and comfort to many Rushville people. Profits by this Rushville resident's experience:

Chas. Maple, stationary engineer, 939 N. Arthur St., says: "My kidneys were out of fix and backache was the first thing to show up. Early in the day, there was lameness across the small of my back, which was worse when I did exerting work. Catches across my kidneys were bothersome, too. My kidneys didn't act often enough and every now and then, headaches came on. Don't's Pills, from Hargrove & Brown's, 1002 Stone, rid me of every sign of kidney trouble."

ATTEND PRUDENTIAL DINNER

Men From Local Office Present When Wilmer Brown is Honored

Wilmer V. Brown, Grover D. Geise, Elmer M. Ryan and Lawrence Wortman attended the district convention of the Prudential Insurance Company at Brookville Saturday. A chicken dinner was served at the Valley House. During the dinner music was furnished by an orchestra composed of insurance men.

A business meeting followed the dinner, at which time Wilmer V. Brown, assistant superintendent of the local Prudential office, who has been in the service of the company for ten years, was presented with a silver badge and certificate of membership in the Prudential Old Guard. Mr. Brown was congratulated by Supl. C. E. Thompson of Richmond for his faithful service with the company.

In the suit of Grover Kiser against Melvin D. Seely, the evidence was heard and judgment entered for $267.75 and costs on a note.

Another judgment on a note was entered in the case of George H. Gould and Son against Walter T. Vandenberg, the amount being for $71.53 and costs. Judgment also was taken against the same defendant by William H. Armstrong, the amount being on a note for $48.18 and costs. Judge Sparks also granted a divorce Saturday in the case of Vlen Tacker against Charles L. Tacker, following the evidence which he heard a few days before. The plaintiff was granted a divorce upon payment of costs, and her former name of Vlen Tacker restored.

In the contempt of court proceedings filed by Zada Clark against Alvin Clark, the action was dismissed, and the defendant notified not to appear as ordered.

Death Toll in Northern Ohio Now Definitely at 90. May Grow

With the coming of daylight today search for the bodies of more victims believed buried in ruined buildings was renewed, while a list of the injured being cared for in hospitals at Cleveland, Lorain and Elyria had mounted to 300. How many were treated in private homes is still impossible to estimate.

Property damage at Lorain amounted to approximately $30,000, 900 while imposition of curfew showed some 5,000 homeless.

Brigadier General J. R. McQuigg, stationed with his Cleveland troops in the public square here, was in military command of the city. Governor Donabey was on the scene to organize and direct relief and reconstruction. The governor was to announce today whether he would ask the state emergency board for an appropriation.

Seven were killed at Sandusky

where the tornado, with an ear-splitting roar, cut a swath a half mile wide as it swept through the city to the bay. Property damage there was in the millions, with 200 to 500 homeless and a dire threat of fire and pestilence looming as a result of the crippling of Sandusky's water supply. All Ohio seemed to be contributing today to the relief fund and to the stores of clothing and provisions which were pouring in by train, truck and lake vessels.

White uniforms of sailors from the naval cruiser Wilmington was conspicuously amidst the khaki of the military and the denims of the toiling rescue squads. There was little pillaging during the night, which was inky black, with strewn wires and hopelessly tangled electrical connections making lighting impossible. Rigid martial law orders were in effect against vandals.

Dawn Sunday found weird evidence of the tornado's pranks on every hand. It had sent a huge 100 foot smokestack toppling to slice off the rear of the Lorain high school. Two hundred automobiles were flipped here and there for 35 blocks along Broadway, some overturned, some driven into the fronts of office buildings and shops.

One of Lorain's new churches was today nothing but a great heap of brick and mortar. The steeple of another had been hurled 100 feet. On the city's main street, the front of an apartment house was shaved off, laying bare the front rooms without disturbing the furniture.

It was estimated that the tornado was blowing 100 miles an hour as it struck here.

BAKER IN SPOTLIGHT AS HE NAMES COX

Newton D. Baker as he placed James M. Cox in nomination as the Democratic candidate for president. Baker received the most spontaneous ovation accorded to any individual who has appeared on the speaker's stand in Madison Square Garden. On that premise many are predicting that Baker will be the compromise nominee. Seen on the stand is Senator Thomas J. Walsh, convention chairman, who also is gaining in favor as a compromise nominee.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Costello and family of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Howard and Lawrence Kelley came Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Lena Kelley and family. Howard and Lawrence will remain with their mother for the summer.

—W. O. Feudner went to Indianapolis today to attend a meeting of the arrangements committee of the Indiana Republican Editorial Association to complete plans for the outing at the West Baden Hotel July 11 and 12th.

—The Misses Margaret Bell, Ruth Martin, Helen Caldwell, Virginia Haydon, Phyllis Casady, and Thelma Fanning and Walter Stevens, James Waites, Ralph Plessinger, Franklin Martin, Wade Dill and Farrell Kimberling of Shelbyville enjoyed a picnic dinner at McCoy's lake Sunday.

—Mrs. J. C. Sexton left Saturday for Petoskey, Mich., where she will spend the summer, and will be joined later by her husband, Dr. J. C. Sexton. She was accompanied in her machine by Miss Ella Kemp, who will continue from Petoskey to spend the summer at her home in Amherstburg, Ontario. Mrs. Alice Jones also accompanied them as far as Winona Lake, where she will remain for several weeks.

Adoo rose a few votes after the first ballot, but not enough to make any weakling, and with eighteen candidates being voted, it was apparent that most of these favorite sons must be shaken off before there is anything tangible that would enable any of the leaders to claim an advantage. Judge Rockwell, McAdoo's manager, predicted his candidate would show marked gains on the fifth ballot.

Both McAdoo and Smith showed small gains on the fourth ballot.

After the first ballot, Wm. J. Bryan was recognized. "By unanimous request of committee on resolution, I present a resolution separate from platform:

"In political organizations the American people are divided into opposing parties. Afterwards they are as one man in allegiance to the nation's executive."

He then asked that in memory of Harding the convention stand and adopt the resolution. It was done and the call of the second roll proceeded.

The Missouri delegation had to be polled on the first ballot when objection was made by one of the delegates to casting Missouri's vote under the unit rule and giving McAdoo a total of 36 votes.

The poll of the Missouri delegation showed McAdoo 25, John D. Davis 3 and 8 present but not voting. The chair then recognized Joseph Shannon of Kansas City, the delegate who protested, casting the delegation's vote under the unit rule for McAdoo. He contended that the McAdoo instructions were given "by a trick." He was permitted five minutes to argue his point.

Shannon declared that money had been sent into the state of Missouri to get the Missouri delegation for McAdoo when as a matter of fact the great majority of the delegates to the state convention, which instructed the delegates were for Senator Jim Reed.

Shannon further argued that when the delegates voted present but not voting they could not be bounded to cast their votes with the majority. He claimed that the majority had been bought and "we decline to be delivered even if we were sold."

HEADS OF VICTIMS CRUSHED

Entire Family of Five Found Murdered in Chicago Suburb

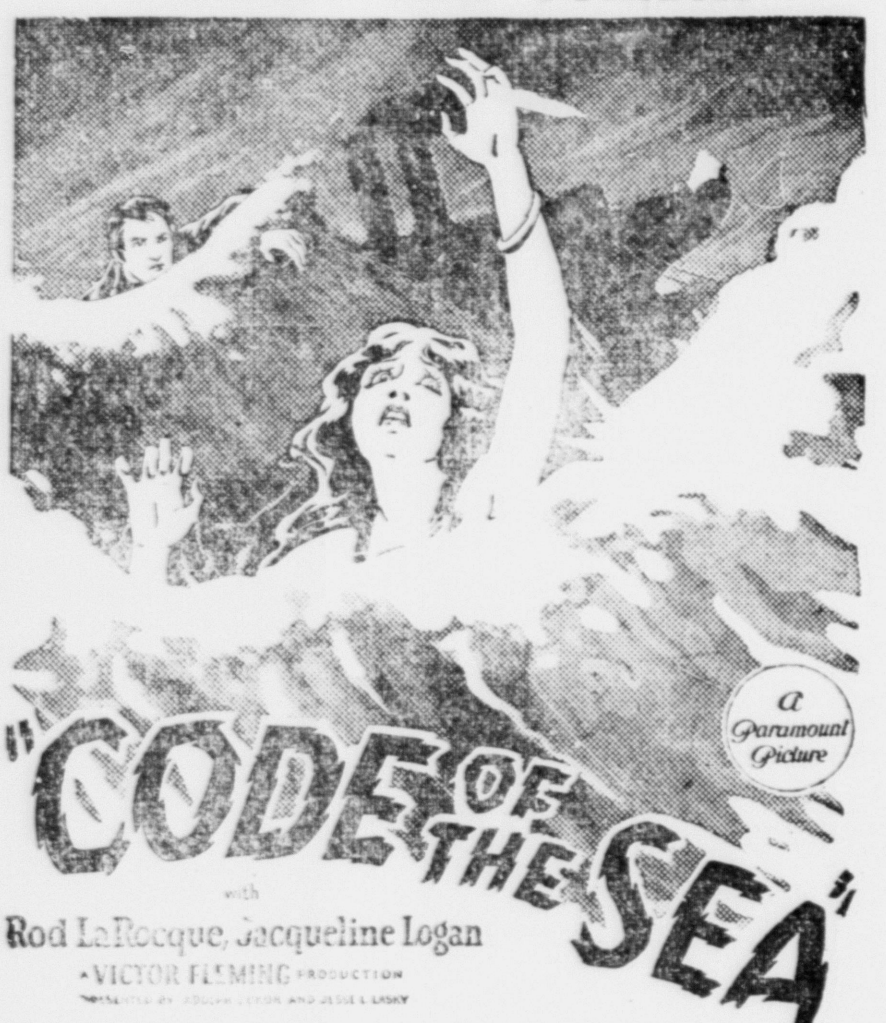

(By United Press)

Chicago, June 30—An entire family and their three small boys—were found beaten to death in their suburban home near here early today. Heads of the victims apparently had been battered with a blunt instrument.

Immediately after finding of the bodies by neighbors, search was started for an acknowledged imbecile who had been living with the Eden family. The man's name was not known.

The half-wit, according to neighbors, has not been seen since Friday. The victim apparently had been dead more than a day.

An end to worry:—Be careful for nothing; but in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God. And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus. Philippians 4: 6, 7.

Prayer:—Our Beloved Lord, Thine promise us peace, not as the world giveth. Evermore purify our hearts, and enable us to trust Thee, and Thou wilt give us peace.

The "Glorious" Fourth

In Rushville next Friday there will be what the Independence Day orators like to call the "glorious" Fourth. The celebration will be unrestricted for the first time in many years and small boys and girls—and big one too—may make all the noise they wish. No one objects to the day being given over to boisterous celebration, but it is well to remember that the Fourth stands for something besides the firing of firecrackers, that it is the anniversary of the natal day of the greatest republic on earth.

I setting forth their declaration of principles on the uncharted sea of democracy, the Fathers declared that all men are created equal, and endowed with certain inalienable rights among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The principal is universal—a thing that should not be forgotten in celebrating the Fourth. Though unlicensed the celebration by any individual or group of individuals should not go so far as to trespass on the "inalienable" rights of others.

With Modern Woodmen from all over Indiana, in addition to many people who are coming for the celebration, we should have another "glorious" Fourth, like the days of old, in Rushville this year, but it's a good idea to remember what it's all about.

Holding Their Own

Agricultural prices held their own during the past month and a continued slow decline in prices of non-agricultural commodities evidences such improvement as the farm situation shows, according to the monthly agricultural review of the U. S. department of agriculture.

Using the year 1913 as a base, the index of the purchasing power of farm products in terms of other commodities is 77. This is an improvement over the previous month.

Crop conditions are generally encouraging and farmers are expecting to profit from the slowing up of industry. Though their domestic market may not be so good, they will doubtless gain more from cheap labor and materials than they are able to lose by a narrower market for butter, eggs and other products.

Farmers of the midwest have been complaining because of too much moisture and on the Pacific coast grain crops have been cut by a drought. Frosts and droughts have damaged fruits in the northwest.

On the whole, they have more reason to be optimistic than they have had in many months.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican

A happy little party is the members of the Psi Chi Chapter in camp on Jim Shannahan farm, two miles west of this city. In the party are Louise Maury, Louise Craig, Helen Scudder, Emma Wilk, Mary Anderson, Fannie Gregg, Alma Green, Hannah Morris, Dorothy Thomas, Marion Wilson, Nettie Clark and Frances Frazer. Mrs. Ora Wilson is officiating as chaperon.

What Rushville needs and ought to have: More oiled streets in the residence part of town; a new opera house; the business streets paved; a Carnegie Library; a new city hall; a new union depot; an automobile factory; a new office building; a piano factory; a casket factory; a porch furniture factory; a big Claustranqu; a Horse show and home coming day in October; a live merchants' association; all out-of-town buying stopped; more boosters and no knockers; the Rushville Improvement association to get busy again.

The one-year old girl baby of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Winship, living south of this city, fell out of bed yesterday afternoon and dislocated her shoulderblade. The little one fell on her head and it was thought for a time that the accident was going to prove fatal.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Viola West of Indianapolis and Henry Morris of this city, will be solemnized at the home of the bride-to-be tomorrow evening. Mr. Morris is the popular office boy and porter at the L. and C. traction station and his numerous friends wish him many joys upon his venture on the matrimonial sea.

Miss Bertha Bobert and Mr. John Kessler will be married at the home of the bride's parents in Maunilla tonight. The ceremony will be private and will be performed by the Rev. William R. Jimmet.

Frank Norris, Thomas McCoy, Will Jackson and Mike McCoy are camping near the Norris Ford and will remain until after the Fourth of July.

Miss Marie Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kelly of North Jackson street, suffered a severely sprained ankle Sunday and is much improved.

Another wedding of interest to Maunilla people was the marriage of Miss Nellie Lowden to Mr. Chester Macy in Indianapolis last week. Mr. and Mrs. Macy will reside in the capital city.

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Balbridge celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Tuesday night at their home in Milroy. About two hundred guests were present.

Will Brown, the blacksmith, is confined to his home in West First street with a violent attack of rheumatism.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The first move of the La Follette convention, called for Cleveland July 4, promises to be a physical one.

The demand for representation as delegates from this, that and the other organization qualified for representation is so heavy that the present outlook is the B. of L. E. auditorium, where the meetings were first scheduled, would be packed to the doors with the delegates alone. There would be no room for "distinguished progressives," attending in a personal, not a delegate, capacity. There would be no room for merely "interested" visitors, whom the conference hopes to convert to active support of its candidate and platform.

Last but not least, there would be no room for the newspaper and magazine representatives. And without these last there would be no adequate dissemination of the news of the event, on which to a great degree hangs the understanding of and support for the conference's conclusions.

Wherefore, 10 days before the conference was due to meet, a hurry-up call was sent out by Arthur Holder, secretary of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, under which the meeting is called, to find a larger hall. The Grays' armory, with double the seating capacity of the first auditorium, seems now the likely choice. If that proves too small, there still remains the great public hall which even the Republican convention failed to fill in its early sessions.

The next complication endangering the smooth progress of the conference is the Democratic convention.

It has been learned that the Democrats will write their platform and name their candidates before the Democratic convention assembled. That would simplify matters, but merely in respect to platform but also on candidates.

Should the "impossible" happen and McAdoo drag the Democratic nomination out of the New York arena, a great block of the delegates attending the Cleveland conference would at once lose their enthusiasm over an independent or third-party candidate.

This would be true especially of the delegates representing the great railway brotherhoods and affiliated organizations, loyal though they are to La Follette.

McAdoo's nomination would put before the Cleveland meeting a real predicament and a puzzling problem.

Should the New York nomination, as is unlikely, be delayed until July 4 or later, excuse will be found for marking time at Cleveland until at least Monday, July 7, before taking up the issue of a candidate.

DELEGATES and visitors to the Cleveland conference will be confronted at the convention hall by the startling query, blazoned on striking handbills:

"Are You a Cotsu?" This is to warn delegates in advance, so they may not fight first and inquire the meaning of the word later. Being asked if you are a Cotsu doesn't mean that you are suspected of being some new brand of mental or moral renegade.

A Cotsu, instead, is a perfectly proper patriot. Indeed, according to the "American Business Men" financing the publication of the handbills, one cannot be a genuine, 100 per cent, 24-hour patriot without belonging to the League of Nations of Cotsus, the motto of which is: "Never accuse without proof."

Briefly, the organization, which draws its name from the initials of "Citizens of the U. S. A.," seeks to stop the reign of rumor and gossip about the honesty and integrity of public officials.

Calomel Slave Finds Freedom

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 72

By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

Many victims of a sluggish liver, if asked what caused them the most suffering, would promptly answer—Headaches. The bilious headache is a most distressing ailment, even though it generally is of short duration.

The chronic sufferer usually takes a physic and does something to cause vomiting and this affords relief, but does not get at and remove the cause.

Our Chiropractic spinal adjustments that remove pressure on spinal nerves to the liver will bring the sluggish organ back to normal activity and when this happens health follows as a matter of course.

Suffered For Five Years

For five years I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic headaches.

During this time I resorted to calomel as the best means of relief. Since having taken chiropractic adjustments my headaches have left me entirely, and I no longer take calomel.

My health is better in every way, and this, I am grateful to say, I owe to chiropractic.

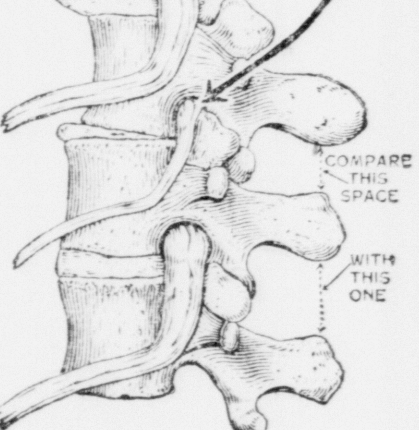

Sincerely yours,

W. T. TERRY.

GAME GOES FOR 11 INNINGS

Batesville Puts Across Winning Run in Game With Rushville

Rushville and Batesville tangled for eleven innings Sunday afternoon in a fast game of baseball, played at Batesville and in the last of the eleventh the Batesville team put across the winning run, and the game ended 4 to 3.

Each team played good ball, and when the ninth inning rolled around, the score was tied at 3. During the game Rushville collected 9 hits and Batesville 8. Fultz and Byr were batteries for Rushville.

The local team will play 4 games Friday, meeting the Anderson Modern Woodman team in each encounter. The first game will be called at 10 a. m. and the afternoon game at 3 p. m.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Barrett, White Sox shortstop. He smashed out four hits in four times up, aiding the Sox to win from the Browns 6 to 5.

The Giants split a twin bill with the Braves yesterday, losing the first 4-1 and taking the second 5-3. In the opening battle Jesse Barnes and Virgil Barnes opposed each other. Tony Kaufmann pulled the Cubs

TO SEND TEAM TO THE IRISH GAMES

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 30—Ireland has invited her sons and daughters home for athletic games next August—games antedating even the Olympics. The Irish games are named in honor of Queen Taittea, and have their foundation back in the days when Irishmen lived together in peace—if you believe the histories.

The Tailteann games are confined to amateurs of Irish birth or extraction, i. e., competitors must either have been born in Ireland or have had one parent of Irish birth or both grandparents on either side of Irish birth. The intention of the council was that all conforming with these conditions who qualified for the Olympic teams will be included in the teams to be sent to Dublin for the Tailteann games after the conclusion of the Olympic games. If it should happen that the Olympic selections are not eligible for the Tailteann games, the next eligible men in order of merit will be chosen for the Irish games.

The American Tailteann Council is under the presidency of Murray Halbert, president of the Board of Aldermen of New York and vice-president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. The necessary funds are being contributed by Americans of Irish extraction.

More than one-half of the men and women swimmers, boxers, and wrestlers who have been selected for the American Olympic team are eligible for, and are expecting to compete in, the Tailteann games in Ireland.

The Tailteann games, which are a revival of famous games held in Ireland for two thousand years, but which lapsed 700 years ago, have aroused great enthusiasm in athletic circles throughout the world. Competitors will gather from Australia, South Africa, India, China, Canada, England, Scotland, Wales, the Argentine and America.

It is hoped that the American group will be of out-standing strength and will comprise full teams in track and field athletics, swimming, diving, cycling, boxing, hurling, football, rounders (the parents game of baseball), handball, Irish dancing, etc.

In addition to the athletic pursuits the games will comprise competition in music, literature, arts and crafts industry, etc.

RALEIGH TIGERS WIN ONE

Defeat New Lisbon Sunday Afternoon by Score of 3 to 2

The Raleigh Tigers won a fast and well played game from New Lisbon at Raleigh Sunday afternoon, by the score of 3 to 2. The victory makes it 7 out of 8 this season for Raleigh. Dunreith will play at Raleigh next Sunday and a good game is expected.

Score by innings:
Raleigh 001 100 001—3
New Lisbon 000 000 020—2
Batteries: Raleigh, M. Craig, and J. Craig, New Lisbon, Vanderbeck, Williams and Walker.

out of their losing streak and the Chicago crowd won from Cincinnati 6-2.

Washington took another hitch on the league leadership by trimming the Red Sox 3-2.

Cobb sent in three moundsmen in an attempt to stop the flow of base hits but was unsuccessful, Cleveland winning 7-3.

A ninth inning rally fell short by one run and the Pirates won from the Cards 6-5.

After battling a 1-1 tie until the tenth, the Phillies and Robins started a bombardment. The Robins won out 5-4.

AIR VIEW OF WRECKED BUSINESS BUILDINGS

The cries of the dying still were rising from the ruins when this photograph was taken from an NEA Service airplane at dawn Sunday at Lorain, Ohio. The white structure in the center is the State Moving Picture Theater where some 150 women and children were trapped beneath falling walls. About 100 dead and injured were believed to be in adjoining ruins when this photograph was taken.

DAYTON PREPARES FOR AIR FLIGHTS

Prizes Totalling $50,000 Will Be Offered in Annual Pulitzer Races. Set For October

EXPECT MANY SPEED MACHINES

Dayton, Ohio, June 30—Arrangements are well under way here for the annual International Pulitzer air races, to be staged at the Wilbur Wright field in October.

Several hundred airplanes, capable of going at a speed of 250 miles an hour, will compete for prizes aggregating $50,000.

All highways and streets between Dayton and the field are being paved and $800 regular soldiers from Jefferson barracks will act as special patrol during the events. Dayton business men have subscribed $250,000 for the initial expenses of the races. Thousands of motorists from adjoining states are expected and a plot of 20 acres near the field has been set aside for parking space.

Nearly every state in union will be represented in the races, as well as nearly every European nation. Belgium has promised to send two ships, and England probably will do likewise. Sadi Lecointe, the fastest and highest flyer in France, and Brack Papa of Italy have signified their intention of competing.

The army air service will be represented by the two Curtiss racers which competed last year. They have been equipped with 500-horsepower motors, replacing the 400-horsepower motors used in the 1923 race.

The pilots appointed to maneuver the army airships are Lieutenant Alex Pearson and Lieutenant W. H. Brookley, both of McCook Field, and Captain Bert Skeel of Selfridge Field.

There is still some doubt about the navy entering the race this year, although there is a report that it will be represented by a new speed marvel.

The Barling bomber, the biggest ship in the world, is on the program for a series of spectacular flights. Lieutenant Harold R. Harris will be at the stick.

The Pulitzer race will be the main event of the meet, which last three days, beginning October 2. There are ten, or twelve other events, including one for small planes, such as those driven by gasoline engines, capable of a long distance 500 ft on a single gallon of gasoline.

For the amateur builders there are six or seven prizes. In addition to the various races, the Shenandoah and a flock of barage, observance and other balloons will be here in a display of lighter than air machines.

Each evening there will be night flying by illuminated planes.

There has been some concern over the difficulty of housing the hundreds of planes expected to enter the races. Wilbur Wright Field can accommodate about 112, McCook Field about 125 and two private fields about 50 each.

AUSTRALIANS PLAY
IN CHAMPIONSHIP

Lend International Aspect to Western Tennis Competition Opening in Indianapolis Today

MANY STARS ARE ENTERED

Indianapolis, Ind., June 30—Australian competition added an international aspect to the thirty eighth annual western tennis championships which started at the Woodstock club today.

The largest gallery of stars ever entered in a court meet outside of Davis cup or national championships was on hand ready to scrap just as hard as if the play was for one of those titles.

With the great array of talent contending in the affair which is held under the sanction of the United States lawn tennis association the championships are expected to outdo all previous racket competition in the middlewest. The program of five events last four days.

Aside from the mens singles event which started today, mens doubles, womens singles and doubles and juniors singles are on the card.

Such stars as Wm. Tilden, Brian Norton, Richard Patterson and R. E. Schelsinger are lending prestige and the dash of brilliance and importance to the tourney. Besides these more prominent stars the entry lists contain the names of Alfred Chapin Jr., who has twice this year forced Tilden to five sets, Sandy Weiner, the two McGlynn boys, David O'Laughlin and no less than two score lesser stars.

Hoosier colors will be upheld in the championships by Johnny Hennessey, who is capable of springing a surprise. Sagulowsky and Ralph Burdick.

Among the women entries are the names Leighton, Waldo, Beise, Bailey, Alter and Stewart.

The "western" sands are expected to burn.

STATE OF INDIANA 'DEAD' BROKE AGAIN

How to Pay $2,500,000 Debt General Fund—Money Transferred From Benevolent Fund

NEW LOAN TO BE NEGOTIATED

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 30—The state today had to pay a $2,500,000 debt against the general fund money borrowed for casual deficits, on Jan. 1 this year.

The finance board transferred two million dollars from the benevolent fund to the general fund today. There was only about 250,000 in the general fund. So the Union Trust Company of Indianapolis will have to wait until Tuesday for the other $250,000.

Tuesday a new loan of $2,500,000 is to be made by the Meyer-Kiser Bank. Two million dollars of it will go back to the benevolent fund, $250,000 to pay the balance of the loan due today and $250,000 to the general fund to run the state on for the next six months.

The state debt is still $4,890,000 borrowed from the highway department Purdue University and the auto theft fund.

Shelbyville—Palmistry palmed off a dirty deal to Russel Higgins. A fortune teller told him he would be involved in general court actions. First he was fined on a speeding charge; sued for damages resulting from an auto accident; and sued for divorce by his wife. Now he has been arrested for stealing a windshield.

Franklin—Albert Morrell of Clayton, Ind., has presented more than 600 volumes of Shakespeare to the Franklin College library. Many rare volumes are included.

MAY CALL PUPILS TO BE WITNESSES

Wives, Children and Wealthy Business Men, Who Studied Under Young Leopold to be Examined

REGARDING HIS SANITY

Accused Chicago Boy Conducted Private Classes in Ornithology, and Earned Spending Money

(By United Press)

Chicago June 30.—Learning that Nathan Leopold, Jr., one of the confessed slayers of 14-year old Robert Franks, was a "professor" of ornithology—conducting classes in bird life among families of wealth—the office of state's attorney Robert E. Crowe today announced several of Leopold's "pupils" would be called for questioning. Leopold, it was learned, made his "spending money" by organizing classes in bird life. Wives and children and wealthy Chicago business men were enrolled. In addition to drawing room lectures, Leopold took his classes on tours of the parks to study birds and their habits.

"We will examine these so-called pupils of Leopold," an attaché of the state's attorney's office said. "They may give us additional knowledge concerning Leopold's life and probably many of them will be able to testify that he was sane."

The defense, hoping to save Leopold and his co-defendant, Richard Loeb, from the gallows, was busy, meanwhile preparing its case which will be built around a plan that the boys are insane and not responsible for the crime. Data accumulated by Dr. Karl M. Bowman and Dr. H. S. Holbert, alienists retained by the defense, was being condensed for use in the trial, scheduled to start August 4.

MOVIES

"The Blizzard" at Mystic

Under the title "The Blizzard," William Fox is presenting the picture version of "The Story of a Country House," by Selma Lagerlof, winner of the Nobel prize for literature. The production comes to the Mystic theatre today for two days.

Mary Johnson, known as the Mary Pickford of Europe, has the leading role as Ingrid, the little violinist of the wandering circus. Elinor Hansson portrays Gunnar Hede, the young artist who loses his mind in the terror of a stampede or reindeer during a terrific blizzard. Others in the principal roles are Pauline Brunius, Terkel Ahlander, Adolf Olachansky, and Stina Berg, all well known Swedish artists.

The story tells of the love of a boy for his violin, which brought love for a girl, because she too loved her fiddle. There are a motherly mother and an idealistic son. Then, too, there are Blomgren and his wife, who entertain the village folks by their droll clownings on the green. The reindeer stampede and the blizzard are said to be among the most impressive scenes ever caught by a camera.

"Code of the Sea," Princess

Rod La Rocque and Jacqueline Logan are featured in the Paramount picture, "Code of the Sea," at the Princess theatre Monday and Tuesday.

The picture was adapted from an original screen story by R. Morgan, prominent magazine writer. The story has to do with the regeneration of a coward, a theme not unlike that of James Cruze's "The Fighting Coward," but with entirely different treatment. Directed by Victor Fleming, "Code of the Sea" should prove one of the most interesting films of the current season. It has a great cast, an appealing story, heart-interest and everything else—and it's by the Arlington band, followed by a delegation of ladies riding on horses. The Royal Neighbors will have their float followed by the Woman's Relief Corps and the G. A. R. organizations. In this contingent all ladies' organizations, clubs and religious societies are invited to take part and be represented. All persons in this division will assemble on the avenue, above Second street.

In the next division, the Rushville Odd Fellows Band will lead the procession. Following the band will be the children from the Odd Fellows home at Greensburg. About sixty of the children will be in machines, and will be guests here that day.

This division will be the largest division of any, as behind the Odd Fellows children, will come all of the fraternal and religious floats, the Boy scout drum corps and boy scouts, then the industrial floats. The New Salem band will be next in order, and bringing up the rear of the parade will be decorated machines, and automobiles used for advertising purposes by the dealers in the county.

All of this contingent will meet in West Third street beyond the Pennsylvania railroad.

The marshals in charge of the parade announced today that the procession would leave the starting point promptly at one o'clock and that all organizations should be in their positions, and ready to move.

Motion picture machines will be stationed at several places to get the parade in action.

After the parade reaches the park, Senator Watson will deliver the address in the coliseum. The drills and other events for the Woodman teams will follow the speaking at the park, and will be open for public inspection. Daylight fireworks will be held after the drills, and several band stands will be built in the park to provide music throughout the afternoon.

RUN-DOWN WEAK, NERVOUS

Benefited by First Bottle of
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lancaster, Pa.—"After I was married I became terribly run-down and was weak and nervous. My sister-in-law told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband got me a bottle at once, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it. I began to feel well and strong again and was able to do my housework up to the time my baby was born—a nice fat little girl in the best of health. I surely am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends when they have troubles like mine, and I am perfectly willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."

—Mrs. FRANK H. CHIMM, 533 Locust Street, Lancaster, Pa.

Women should heed such symptoms as pains, backache, nervousness, a run-down condition and irregularity, as they indicate some form of female trouble.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all these troubles. For sale by druggists everywhere.

This idea prepared men for leadership in the church and for the American Revolution, and is transforming the world.

"French refugees went back from Switzerland to France and organized the French Reformed church, out of which grew the Huguenots, who fled to America for religious liberty.

"This is only an outgrowth of that heroic blow struck by Luther which went resounding throughout all Europe and changed the religious life of Germany.

"In Scotland the struggle against Rome was long but was finally established on Calvinistic grounds by John Knox. Government by Presbyterians in which the people took part became so strongly established that it could not be changed."

The speaker also pointed out that God was the captain of our Forefathers in religious leadership. He followed briefly the history of the early settlers in America. They were Baptists, Congregationalists, Presbyterians, Catholics and Episcopalians. These had their form of church government for which corresponds four kinds of national government.

The great majority of the colonists came from countries influenced by the theology of Calvin and a church government brought to the front by John Knox. They were largely Scotch-Irish, French, German, and Dutch Reformed. Their form of government in church was the equality of members and ministers.

Calvin in his home on the banks of Lake Geneva in Switzerland made possible government of the people, by the people, for the people. D'Aubigne said, "Calvin was the founder of the greatest of republics."

Bancroft said: "He that will not honor the memory and respect the influence of Calvin knows but little of American history."

These religious ideas took form in a Presbyterian system of church government with its session, Presbytery and General Assembly, the pastor said. Chief Justice Tilghman says: "The framers of the Constitution of the United States borrowed much of the form our representation from the Constitution of the Presbyterian church of Scotland."

Bancroft, the historian says: "The revolution of 1776 so far as it was effected by religion was a Presbyterian measure. It was the natural outgrowth of the principles which the Presbyterianism of the Old World planted in her sons and daughters the English Puritans, the Scotch Covenanters, the French Huguenots the Dutch Calvinists and the Presbyterians of Ulster."

The first Declaration of Independence was by the Mecklenburg Assembly at Charlotte, North Carolina which was composed of twenty-seven staunch Calvinists of whom nine were Presbyterian ruling elders and one a Presbyterian preacher. This was one year before the Continental Congress declared itself free from England. In that congress Dr. John Witherspoon, a Presbyterian preacher, and the only clergyman in the Congress, lifted ed his voice in favor of separation and east the deciding vote.

"When you are celebrating our national birthday next Friday," said the Rev. Mr. Wilson, "remember the religious background out of which has grown our great nation and praise God for those who with a great faith brought to us the religious and national liberty which we so much enjoy."

St. Paul's Church

"What's All the World Talking About?" was the subject of the morning sermon delivered by the Rev. H. W. Hargett at the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. His text was taken from Matthew 16:2, 3 "When it is evening, ye say, it will be fair weather for the sky is red. And in the morning it will be foul weather today for the heaven is red and lowering." He said in part:

What's all the world talking about? That which it was talking about when Christ was on Earth—the weather. He made it the subject of a sermon. May I not do the same? If it is the daily theme of conversation for most of the people of earth, may it not form the subject of one sermon, especially as it touches the deep questions of life and of God's relation to the world? Let us look at it as a fact, a figure and a philosophy.

As a stern fact we must deal with the weather. It is not always what men or angels might desire, but God uses it as a means of moral training. The plant called man owes as much to bad weather and to the consequent struggle for life as it does to good weather. It is the storms that call forth the noble, the heroic, the kindly elements of human nature. Where all skies are cloudless, all days radiant, you have only a desert. The richest harvests of earth are not of wheat or oats or hay or alfalfa, they are harvests of the mind and soul of man.

Things leap to the light out of the depths of man's soul, when he battles with the storm that he knows not of in the sunshine. This is a world for growing men, and with that end in view it requires all kinds of weather. As a figure the weather stands for the things that we cannot change. We must accept it as it comes and make the best of it. Mark Twain's most famous after dinner speech was on "New England Weather." He began by saying "Everybody is always talking about the weather but nobody has ever done anything about it. While we are reforming everything else in the world, why not reform the weather?"

No reason, except, that we cannot. Thus with many of the fortunes and misfortunes of life, they are beyond our power to alter. Why not then accept them as good or bad weather and make the best of them? As a philosophy the weather suggests that if we cannot control the winds that sweep across our fields and farms, we can control the winds that sweep across our minds and souls. We can by divine help be weather makers within if we cannot be weather makers without. When the storm was at its height the other day and a river of water was flowing down Morgan street I noticed a robin in the apple tree back of the parsonage singing in the rain. He seemed to pour forth his very soul in song. He was making his own weather. He was adding to that song and cheer whose music is the gladness of the world. If we can't make good weather within and sing for the very indwelling joy of our own hearts, then get a view from above the shifting winds and changing clouds. There the weather is constant, there the sun forever shines. The clouds may band their draperies across the skies but about them is the One with whom is no variableness, neither shadow that is cast in turning." From Christ we may learn the secret of living above the weather world. He taught the secret of soul serenity. He opened to men the sources of spiritual power and enabled them to enter into his own place. Peace I leave with you. My peace I give unto you. Not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid."

"Above the surge of din of life, Above its sorrow and its strife, From out the life-flood he above, I feel the beatings of God's love."

In the evening the choir and orchestra gave a very fine musical program.

First Baptist Church

The closing program of the Daily Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church was rendered before a splendid and appreciative audience Sunday night. The exercise was simply a demonstration of the usual daily program which has been carried out for the past three weeks of the school session. Beside the usual opening and closing exercises, there was a demonstration of the scripture memory work by each group and two dramatizations of Bible stories. The kindergarten pupils in charge of Miss Mary Stewart dramatized the story of Moses. Dramatization of the story of Joseph was rendered by the second division of the primary department under the direction of Miss Kathleen Hobbs. Both dramatizations were well received.

A report of enrollment and attendance showed a few more than eighty enrolled and an average attendance of sixty. Each morning an offering was made for the Crawford Industrial School, the home for Baptist orphans of Indiana. A pint fruit jar was used to receive the offering and it was filled during the three weeks with a total offering of $8.13.

All the teachers and helpers gave their service without financial compensation and the church furnished all the material for the craft work which was on display at the close of the program.

This is the first year that the church has fostered a Vacation School, which from present indications, will be an annual part of the church program during the coming years.

DEADLOCK CONTINUES IN VOTING FOR DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION

After Seventh Ballot, it is Announced That Convention Will Recess Following Tenth Ballot

NIGHT SESSION TO BE HELD

McAdoo and Smith Show No More Strength Than Their Managers Claim for Them in First Ballots

18 CANDIDATES IN VOTING

Most of Favorite Sons Must be Shaken Off Before Anything Tangible Can be Realized

(By United Press)

Madison Square Garden, June 30.—The deadlock on the presidential nomination at the Democratic convention continued hard after the first seven ballots this afternoon. It was understood at 2:30 p. m. that the plan at this time was to continue until ten ballots are taken. This would take the session about to five o'clock when a recess would be taken until eight o'clock. During the three hour intermission there will be a series of conferences and marked changes with the elimination of several favorite sons as anticipated.

McAdoo and Smith showed no more strength than their managers claimed for them through the first seven ballots.

Total votes cast on the seventh ballot, 1,098. Smith 261; McAdoo 442 3-5; Cox 59; J. W. Davis 55; Glass 25; Ralston 30; Robinson 19; Underwood 42; Bryan 18; Ritchie 19 9-10; Davis 30; Robinson 8; Harrison 20; Silber 28; Sausbury 6; Ferris 30; Thompson 1; Walsh 1.

Chairman Walsh announces at 3:50 o'clock that "about five o'clock we are taking a short recess." It is assumed there will be a recess from five to eight o'clock.

At the conclusion of the sixth ballot, Senator Pat Harrison took the chair and read to the convention a United Press dispatch from Washington announcing the indictments of former Secretary of the Interior Fall, Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny and his son.

FARMER LIVING NEAR GLENWOOD SENTENCED

Forrest Brooks Sent to Penal Farm for Unlawfully Manufacturing and Selling Liquor

A SEQUEL TO HIS ARREST

Forrest Brooks, a farmer living on the Rush-Fayette county line, on the Fayette side, near Glenwood, was arrested Saturday afternoon by officers from that county, following a raid, when a 50 gallon still was captured and six barrels of mash found under the hog house.

Brooks pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Himelek in the circuit court, and was fined $250 and costs and given a 90 day sentence at the state farm on a charge of unlawfully manufacturing and selling liquor.

The search at the Brooks farm was the outgrowth of a report Friday night in Connersville when Corvin Young of that city was arrested with a ten gallon jug of liquor. He pleaded guilty also to a charge of transporting liquor and was fined $10 and costs and sentenced to the penitentiary for a term of from one to two years.

It was stated that Young was a booze runner for the Glenwood man. He was trapped by the police at Connersville as he was preparing to deliver the ten gallons of liquor. In the struggle with the police, he escaped, and was shot through the foot. In jail he attacked the sheriff, but was subdued.

(By United Press)

Lorain, Ohio June 30.—The death toll in Lorain mounted to 69 today with the death of three patients in hospitals and the finding of six more bodies.

As rescue work proceeded rapidly under the leadership of the national guard and Red Cross, Governor Vic Donahey called a conference in Columbus for 3 o'clock this afternoon to make a program for state-wide relief.

Amidst the shattered wreckage of her northern towns and villages, Ohio today sought the full death toll from the ten minute tornado which devastated Lorain and Sandusky and caused approximately 90 deaths.

CLAYTON WOLVERTON WIRES HE IS SAFE

Former Rushville Man, Living at Sandusky, O., Sends Word to Mother He Escaped Injury

JOHN RYAN AT CEDAR POINT

So far as could be learned today, no one from this city was killed or injured in the severe wind and rain storm that swept northern Ohio late Saturday afternoon, doing considerable damage at Cleveland, Sandusky and Lorain.

Mrs. Laura Wolverton, 732 North Main street, received a message Sunday morning from her son, Clayton Wolverton of Sandusky, in which the message stated that he and his wife were safe, but that they had suffered property damage. Seven lives were lost at this city.

Some anxiety was at first felt for the safety of John Ryan, son of Donny Ryan of this city, who is spending the summer at Cedar Point, another place on Lake Erie, which was in the path of the storm. Newspaper accounts, however, do not account for any lives lost at this place, and it is believed that the Rushville young man is safe.

FIRST PICTURES OF THE DAMAGE BY OHIO STORM

Procured under the most unusual difficulties through its agent, the NEA Service, the Daily Republican is able today to present the first pictures of the wreckage in the wake of the storm which swept through Northern Ohio Saturday night. At dawn Sunday, before one-fourth of the dead and injured had been removed from the ruins, NEA service photographers were in airplanes over the devastated town of Lorain, and on foot along the streets, amid sputtering electric wires and falling buildings. Their pictures were rushed to Cleveland by airplane, prepared for NEA service client newspapers, and sent by special delivery mail today.

vandalism and the threatened spread of smallpox.

As though artillery duels of Flaming day swept the lake front, trees lay uprooted, houses were in tangled heaps, roads were impassable and church steeples had toppled, while through the area of destruction wailed relatives escorted by armed soldiers, still sought pitifully for missing relatives and friends.

Lorain bore the full fruit of the sudden storm which hopped about crazily Saturday evening, striking first Atira, then leaving Sandusky, then to Lorain and spending its fury across the orchards of West Dover and Avon.

"The situation beggars description," Governor Donahey wired his secretary, Jacob Meckstroth, at Columbus. "Conditions here are not understood by the citizens of Ohio. Call immediate conference of prominent Columbus business men to confer with me at 3 p. m. today for program of state-wide relief for Lorain. Order immediately 500 oil stoves of two or three burners and make arrangements for delivery here as soon as possible.

"The state guard and naval reserves are doing splendid work here under Brig. General McQuigg. I am leaving Lorain at once for Columbus."

The governor indicated that following the conference he will issue a proclamation calling upon the entire state to come to the relief of Lorain.

IN WAKE OF OHIO TORNADO

Lorain—Sixty-nine known dead. Property damage estimated $15,000,000.

Sandusky—Seven dead, damage estimated $1,000,000.

Mantua—Three killed in collapse of barns.

Cleveland—Two killed.

Akron—One killed.

Youngstown—One killed.

JURY OUT THIRTY HOUR, DISAGREES

Discharged Saturday Night After Unsuccessful Attempt to Settle Wilson Liquor Case

THE SECOND DISAGREEMENT

Third Trial Will be Pressed, According to Prosecutor—May Term of Court Comes to End

The jury that failed to agree in the alleged liquor law violation case, was held out for 30 hours, before special Judge Freeman Miller gave them their liberty, and the affair gave a fitting climax to the court term which ended when the jury was discharged.

The jurors stood 9 to 3 for conviction, it was intimated, and Gates Ketchum, prosecuting attorney, stated today that on account of the closeness of the balloting, that the case would be pushed for trial again in September, and a third effort made to convict.

The jury was given the case Friday morning at eleven o'clock and after remaining out all night, was not discharged until shortly before six o'clock Saturday night.

Several court matters ended the court term Saturday. Judge Sparks made a ruling in the Dolan case, in which Beatrice Dolan had brought suit for a divorce from Vern Dolan, and on which the defendant was given Continued on Page Two

Those Drowned, or Killed While in Water, Between Ages of 12 and 18 —Two Bodies Recovered

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., June 30.—Three deaths from swimming parties over the state were reported today.

Those drowned or killed while swimming were boys between 12 and 18 years old. Bodies of two have been recovered.

Searchers today prepared to dynamite the White River near here in an attempt to force the body of Carl Holtman, 18, to the surface. Holtman was drowned Friday night and his body is still undecayed.

Bedford Barnes, 12, went to his death in a treacherous swimming hole near Avoca, Ind.

Charles Beach of Elwood was killed when he dived into a shallow hole in the Pendleton swimming pool.

15 Accidental Deaths

Chicago, June 30.—Fifteen persons met death in accidents over the weekend.

Nine persons were killed in auto wrecks.

Six persons were drowned in Lake Michigan and other bodies of water in and near Chicago.

BUY CAMBRIDGE CITY MILL

Rush County Mills Will Make Purcity Flour in Own Plant

Floyd Kirklin and Lawrence Clark, proprietors of the Rush County Mills, have purchased the Eagle flour mill at Cambridge and will again make Purcity flour in their own mills. The mill was sold by William Cretz, who has been making flour for many years and has built up a large trade. Mr. Clark will operate the Cambridge City mill and Mr. Kirklin will be in charge of the local enterprise.

The Rush County Mills have become wholesalers on a large scale, and deal not only in flour, grain and feeds, but also wholesale some groceries. They intend to enlarge their local plant and conduct a complete wholesale grocery house within a year.

DESECRATION OF DAY CRITICIZED

Rushville Ministers Condemn Working of Morgan Street Paving Project on Sunday

Rushville ministers severely criticized the desecration of the Sabbath Day, in their pulpits Sunday evening, after the Andrew Asphalt company, which has the contract for paving Morgan street had a force of men at work all day on the street.

A large steam roller was being used Sunday morning near the C. & W. railroad crossing, less than a block from St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church, and little more than a block from the First Presbyterian church.

Walter R. Thomas, mayor said today that he knew of no way to stop the company from working on Sunday, because the contractors have full charge of the street until it is completed.

The mayor said that there had been so much complaint about the paving having been delayed, that the company was anxious to complete the contract as soon as possible.

The Rev. L. E. Brown Sunday night repeated his sermon of the last previous Sunday evening on the subject, "Parents as Their Daughters See Them," due to a rain storm preventing many people from hearing the sermon the first time it was delivered.

The Sunday evening service at the First Baptist church was devoted to the Daily Vacation Bible school, which has been in progress during June. It was a demonstration of the regular daily program of the school.

The Rev. Gibson Wilson preached a Fourth of July sermon at the First Presbyterian church Sunday morning depicting the religious background out of which has grown the great nation whose birthday will be celebrated next Friday.

The Rev. H. W. Hargett dismissed the weather in his morning sermon using it as a figure standing for something that can not be changed.

First Presbyterian

Rev. Gibson Wilson spoke Sunday morning on the subject, "American Independence and Christian Liberty", showing their relation to our national birthday on July Fourth.

He used as his text 2 Chron. 13-12, "Behold God himself is with us for our captain and his priests with sounding trumpet to call alarm against you, O children of Israel fight ye not against the Lord God of our fathers for ye shall not prosper."

He pointed out that faith in God meant supremacy. He illustrated this in the life of Gregory the Great, also Augustine would have been unknown but for his taking Christianity to the Anglo Saxons. From his labors went out many missionaries, among them Columba who founded the church among the Scots.

He also showed the supremacy of Christian principles which related themselves to American independence and continued in part as follows:

"John Calvin gave to Christianity the great idea of the equality of the ministry and laity. He admitted the laity to a share in church government

PARADE PLAN FOR THE 4TH IS ANNOUNCED

Pageant Will be Spectacular Feature of Modern Woodman State Log Rolling and Celebration

COMPOSED OF 3 DIVISIONS

Will Form in West Second Street and Third Streets and Buena Vista Avenue and Move at 1 p. m.

WILL TERMINATE AT PARK

Address by Senator James E. Watson and Drill Events For Lodge Teams Will Follow

Detailed plans for the big Fourth of July parade were announced today by the committee in charge, and the line-of-march has been decided upon and the meeting places for the various contingents selected.

The parade will be the feature attraction for the afternoon Friday, and will be held in connection with the 25th annual state log rolling of the Modern Woodman lodge.

All business, religious, and fraternal organizations in Rush county, and adjoining counties have been asked to take part in the pageant, and if the committees have overlooked anyone, they do not want them to feel slighted, but request a large turnout.

The parade will move promptly at one o'clock from Second and Buena Vista Avenue, and terminate at Memorial Park, where Senator James E. Watson will deliver the address for the afternoon.

The parade will move east in Second street to Main, then south in Main street, around the court house, returning to Main and Second streets, and then north to Ninth, and west in Ninth to the park.

The following order will be followed in the parade, and participants are urged to take note, in order to be acquainted with the meeting place for each division:

The procession will be headed by three ex-World War Veterans, a sailor, marine and soldier, acting as color bearers. Soldiers in uniform will follow. Then the marshals of the day on mounts will come. Senator Watson in a machine will be next in the line of march, followed by the Indianapolis News Newsboy's band.

After the band will follow the hundreds of Modern Woodmen in uniform, comprising the various teams of the state that will compete in the prizes for drills and other forestry events.

All of the above will comprise the first division, and they will assemble in West Second street, west of the avenue.

The second division will be headed Continued on Page Seven

Robbers Cut Small Hole in Window of Morris Hardware Store and Pull Guns Out With Wire

ALSO BOXES OF CARTRIDGES

Four revolvers and several boxes of cartridges and shells were stolen from the window of the John B. Morris hardware store during the night, it was discovered this morning when Earl Riddle, a clerk at the store, opened the place for business.

The robbers cut a small piece of glass out of one corner of the window and pulled the weapons and ammunition out with a wire. The wire was left in the window, indicating that the burglars left in haste.

The police have no clue to the burglary.

The four revolvers stolen were a .32 Colts. four barrel Police Positive; 32 Colts automatic; 38 Iver-Johnson and .32 H. & R.

Several boxes of cartridges and one box of shells that had been ordered special for a customer were taken. The four revolvers were worth $75.

Many Rushville Folks are Showing How to Avoid Needless Suffering

There's nothing more annoying than kidney weakness or inability to properly control the kidney secretions. Night and day, when the sufferer is tormented and when, with the burning and itching, one is a reluctant beggar for relief, and when, at last, relief is found, it is a bitter pill to swallow. But the kidneys have brought peace and comfort to many Rushville people. Profits by this Rushville resident's experience.

Clair Maple, stationery engineer, 930 N. Adams St., says: "My kidneys were out on my back for a long time. The first thing to show up early in the day, there was lameness across the small of my back, which was worse when I did evening work. Catches are as my kidneys were bothering me. My kidneys didn't act often enough, and every now and then headaches came on. Doctor's Pills from Burdock & Brown's Drug Store, did me of every sign of kidney trouble."

ATTEND PRUDENTIAL DINNER

Men From Local Office Present When Wilmer Brown is Honored

Wilmer V. Brown, Grover D. Geise, Elmer M. Ryan and Lawrence Wortman attended the district convention of the Prudential Insurance Company at Brookville Saturday. A chicken dinner was served at the Valley House. During the dinner music was furnished by an orchestra composed of insurance men.

A business meeting followed the dinner, at which time Wilmer V. Brown, assistant superintendent of the local Prudential office, who has been in the service of the company for ten years, was presented with a silver badge and certificate of membership in the Prudential Old Guard. Mr. Brown was congratulated by Supt. C. E. Thomason of Richmond for his faithful service with the company.

Judgment on a note was entered for $1,192.55 and costs.

In the suit of Grover Kyser against Melvin D. Seely, the evidence was heard and judgment entered for $267.75 and costs on a note.

Another judgment on a note was entered in the case of George H. Gould and Son against Walter T. Abramson, the amount being for $71.33 and costs. Judgment also was taken against the same defendant by William H. Armstrong, the amount being on a note for $48.18 and costs.

Judge Sparks also granted a divorce Saturday in the case of Vera Tucker against Charles L. Tucker, following the evidence which he heard a few days before. The plaintiff was granted a divorce upon payment of costs, and her former name of Vera Lee restored.

In the contempt of court proceeding instituted by Zada Clark against Martin Clark, the action was dismissed, and the defendant notified not to appear in court.

Death Toll in Northern Ohio Now Definitely at 90, May Grow

With the coming of daylight today search for the bodies of more victims believed buried in ruined buildings was resumed, while a list of the injured being cared for in hospitals at Cleveland, Lorain and Elvira had mounted to 300. How many were treated in private homes is still impossible to estimate.

Property damage at Lorain amounted to approximately $30,000, while imposition of curfew drew some 5,000 homeless.

Brigadier General J. R. McQuigg, stationed with his Cleveland troops in the public square here, was in military command of the city. Governor Doney was on the scene to organize and direct relief and reconstruction. The governor was to announce today whether he would ask the state emergency board for an appropriation.

Seven were killed at Sandusky

where the tornado, with an ear-splitting roar, cut a swath a half mile wide as it swept through the city to the bay. Property damage there was in the millions, with 200 to 500 homeless and a dire threat of fire and pestilence looming as a result of the crippling of Sandusky's water supply.

All Ohio seemed to be contributing today to the relief fund and to the stores of clothing and provisions which were pouring in by train, truck and lake vessels.

White uniforms of sailors from the naval cruiser Wilmington was conspicuously amidst the khaki of the military and the denim of the toiling rescue squads. There was little pil-

aging during the night, which was inky black, with strewn wires and hopelessly tangled electrical connections making lighting impossible. Rigid martial law orders were in effect against vandals.

Dawn Sunday found weird evidence of the tornado's pranks on every hand. It had sent a huge 100 foot smokestack toppling to slice off the rear of the Lorain high school. Two hundred automobiles were flipped here and there for 35 blocks along Broadway, some overturned, some driven into the fronts of office buildings and shops.

One of Lorain's new churches was today nothing but a great heap of brick and mortar. The steeple of another had been hurled 100 feet. On the city's main street, the front of an apartment house was shaved off, laying bare the front rooms without disturbing the furniture.

It was estimated that the tornado was blowing 100 miles an hour as it struck here.

BAKER IN SPOTLIGHT AS HE NAMES COX

Newton D. Baker as he placed James M. Cox in nomination as the Democratic candidate for president. Baker received the most spontaneous ovation accorded to any individual who has appeared on the speaker's stand in Madison Square Garden. On that premise many are predicting that Baker will be the compromise nominee. Seen on the stand is Senator Thomas J. Walsh, convention chairman, who also is gaining in favor as a compromise nominee.

HEADS OF VICTIMS CRUSHED

Entire Family of Five Found Murdered in Chicago Suburb
(By United Press)
Chicago, June 30—An entire family and their three small boys—were found beaten to death in their suburban home near here early today. Heads of the victims apparently had been battered with a blunt instrument.
Immediately after finding of the bodies by neighbors, search was started for an acknowledged imbecile who had been living with the Eden family. The man's name was not known.
The half-wit, according to neighbors, has not been seen since Friday. The victim apparently had been dead more than a day.

Adgo rose a few votes after the first ballot, but not enough to make any weakening, and with eighteen candidates being voted, it was apparent that most of these favorite sons must be shaken off before there is anything tangible that would enable any of the leaders to claim an advantage.
Judge Rockwell, McAdoo's manager, predicted his candidate would show marked gains on the fifth ballot.
Both McAdoo and Smith showed small gains on the fourth ballot.
After the first ballot, Wm. J. Bryan was recognized. "By unanimous request of committee on resolution, I present a resolution separate from platform:
"In political organizations the American people are divided into opposing parties. Afterwards they are as one man in allegiance to the nation's executive."
He then asked that in memory of Harding the convention stand and adopt the resolution. It was done and the call of the second roll proceeded.
The Missouri delegation had to be polled on the first ballot when objection was made by one of the delegates to casting Missouri's vote under the unit rule and giving McAdoo a total of 36 votes.
The poll of the Missouri delegation showed McAdoo 25, John D. Davis 3 and 8 present but not voting. The chair then recognized Joseph Shannon of Kansas City, the delegate who protested, casting the delegation's vote under the unit rule for McAdoo. He contended that the McAdoo instructions were given "by a trick." He was permitted five minutes to argue his point.
Shannon declared that money had been sent into the state of Missouri to get the Missouri delegation for McAdoo when as a matter of fact the great majority of the delegates to the state convention, which instructed the delegates were for Senator Jim Reed.
Shannon further argued that when the delegates voted present but not voting they could not be bonded to cast their votes with the majority. He claimed that the majority had been bought and "we decline to be delivered even if we were sold."

BIBLE THOUGHT
—FOR TODAY—
Bible Thoughts, memory, will prove a precious heritage to your soul.

An end to worry: Be careful nothing to do in everything by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.
And the peace of God, which passeth all understanding shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Jesus. Philippians 4: 6, 7.

Prayer:—Our Beloved Lord,
Thou didst promise us peace, not as the world giveth. Evermore purify our hearts, and enable us to trust Thee, and Thou wilt give us peace.

The "Glorious" Fourth

In Rushville next Friday there will be what the Independence Day orators like to call the "glorious" Fourth.
The celebration will be unrestricted for the first time in many years and small boys and girls—and big one too
—may make all the noise they wish.
No one objects to the day being given over to boisterous celebration, but it is well to remember that the Fourth stands for something besides the firing of firecrackers, that it is the anniversary of the natal day of the greatest republic on earth.

I setting forth their declaration of principles on the uncharted sea of democracy, the Fathers declared that all men are created equal, and endowed with certain inalienable rights among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The principal is universal—a thing that should not be forgotten in celebrating the Fourth. Though unlicensed the celebration by any individual or group of individuals should not go so far as to trespass on the "inalienable" rights of others.

Holding Their Own

Agricultural prices held their own during the past month and a continued slow decline in prices of non-agricultural commodities, explains such improvement as the farm situation shows, according to the monthly agricultural review of the U. S. depart-

Using the year 1912 as a base, the index of the purchasing power of farm products in terms of other commodities is 77. This is an improvement over the previous month.

Crop conditions are generally encouraging and farmers are expecting to profit from the slowing up of industry. Though their domestic market may not be so good, they will doubtless gain more from cheap labor and materials than they are able to lose by a narrower market for butter,

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Wednesday, June 30, 1909

A happy little party is the members of the Psi Chi Chapter in camp on Jim Shanahan farm, two miles west of this city. In the party are Louise Manzy, Louise Craig, Helen Scudder, Emma Wilk, Mary Anderson
Fannie Gregg, Anna Green, Hannah
Morris, Dorothy Thomas, Marion
Wilson, Nettie Clark and Frances Prazee. Mrs. Ora Wil-on is officiating as chaperon.

What Rushville needs and ought to have: More oiled streets in the residence part of town; a new opera house; the business streets paved;
a Carnegie library; a new city hall;
a new union depot; an automobile factory; a new office building; a piano factory; a casket factory; a porch furniture factory; a big Chautanooga; a horse show and home coming day in October; a live merchant's association; all out of town buying stopped; more boosters and no knuckers; the Rushville Improvement association to get busy again.

The one-year old girl baby of Mr.
and Mrs. Cliff Winship, living south of this city, fell out of bed yesterday afternoon and dislocated her shoulderblade. The little one fell on her head and it was thought for a time that the accident was going to prove fatal.

The marriage ceremony of Miss Viola West of Indianapolis and Henry Morris of this city, will be solemnized at the home of the bride-to-be tomorrow evening. Mr. Morris is the popular office boy and porter at the
I. and C. traction station and his numerous friends wish him many joys upon his venture on the matrimonial sea.

Miss Bertha Bohout and Mr. John Kessler will be married at the home of the bride's parents in Maunilla tonight. The ceremony will be private and will be performed by the Rev.
William R. Jimmett.

Frank Norris, Thomas McCoy, Will Jackson and Mike McCoy are camping near the Norris Ford and will remain until after the Fourth of July.

Miss Marie Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kelly of North Jackson street, suffered a severely sprained ankle Sunday and is much improved.

Another wedding of interest to Manilla people was the marriage of Miss Selle Lowden to Mr. Chester Macy in Indianapolis last week. Mr. and Mrs. Macy will reside in the capital city.

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Balbridge celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary Tuesday night at their home in Milroy. About two hundred guests were present.

Will Brown, the blacksmith, is confined to his home in West First street with a violent attack of rheumatism.

Hunt's Washington Letter

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The first move of the La Follette convention, called for Cleveland July 4, promises to be a physical one.

The demand for representation as delegates from this, that and the other organization qualified for representation is so heavy that the present outlook is the B. of L. E. auditorium, where the meetings were first scheduled, would be parked to the doors with the delegates alone. There would be no room for "distinguished progressives," attending in a personal, not a delegate, capacity. There would be no room for merely "interested" visitors, whom the conference hopes to convert to active support of its candidate and platform.

Last but not least, there would be no room for the newspaper and magazine representatives. And without these last there would be no adequate dissemination of the news of the event, on which to a great degree hangs the understanding of and support for the conference's conclusions.

Wherefore, 10 days before the conference was due to meet, a hurry-up call was sent out by Arthur Holder, secretary of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, under which the meeting is called, to find a larger hall. The Grays' armory, with double the seating capacity of the first auditorium, seems now the likely choice. If that proves too small, there still remains the great public hall which even the Republican convention failed to fill in its early sessions.

DELEGATES and visitors to the Cleveland conference will be confronted at the convention hall by the startling query, blazoned on striking hand-bills:

"Are You a Cotsuta?"
This is to warn delegates in advance, so they may not fight first and inquire the meaning of the word later. Being asked if you are a Cotsuta doesn't mean that you are suspected of being some new brand of mental or moral renegade.

A Cotsuta, instead, is a perfectly honest patriot.
Indeed, according to the "American Business Men" financing the publication of the handbills, one cannot be a genuine, 100 per cent, 24-cent patriot without belonging to the Loyal Legion of Cotsuta, the motto of which is: "Never accuse without proof."

Indeed, the organization, which denies its name from the initials of "Citizens of the U. S. A.," seeks to stop the reign of rumor and gossip about the honesty and integrity of public officials.

THE next complication endangering the smooth progress of the conference is the Democratic convention.

It is rumored that the Democrats will change their platform and make a bid for Roosevelt. That would simplify matters, not merely in respect to platform but also on candidates.

Should the "impossible" happen and McAdoo drag the Democratic nomination out of the New York arena, a great block of the delegates attending the Cleveland conference would at once lose their enthusiasm over an independent or third-party candidate.

This would be true especially of the delegates representing the great railway brotherhoods and affiliated organizations, loyal though they are to La Follette.

McAdoo's nomination would put before the Cleveland meeting a real predicament and a puzzling problem.

Should the New York nomination, as is unlikely, be delayed until July 4 or later, excuse will be found for marking time at Cleveland until at least Monday, July 7, before taking up the issue of a candidate.

Calomel Slave Finds Freedom

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 72
By H. V. McCully, D. C., Ph. C.

Many victims of a sluggish liver, if asked what caused them the most suffering, would promptly answer—Headaches. The bilious headache is a most distressing ailment, even though it generally is of short duration.

The chronic sufferer usually takes a physic and does something to cause vomiting and this affords relief, but does not get at and remove the cause.

Our Chiropractic spinal adjustments that remove pressure on spinal nerves to the liver will bring the sluggish organ back to normal activity and when this happens, health follows
as a matter of course.

Suffered For Five Years

For five years I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and chronic headaches.

During this time I resorted to calomel as the best means of relief.

Since having taken chiropractic adjustments my headaches have left me entirely, and I no longer take calomel.

My health is better in every way, and this, I am grateful to say, I owe to chiropractic.

Sincerely yours,
W. T. TERRY.

TO SEND TEAM TO THE IRISH GAMES

(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, June 30—Ireland has invited her sons and daughters home for athletic games next August—games antedating even the Olympics. The Irish games are named in honor of Queen Tailte, and have their foundation back in the days when Irishmen lived together in peace—if you believe the histories.

The Tailteann games are confined to amateurs of Irish birth or extraction, i. e., competitors must either have been born in Ireland or have had one parent of Irish birth or both grandparents on either side of Irish birth. The intention of the council was that all conforming with these conditions who qualified for the Olympic teams will be included in the teams to be sent to Dublin for the Tailteann games after the conclusion of the Olympic games. If it should happen that the Olympic selections are not eligible for the Tailteann games, the next eligible men in order of merit will be chosen for the Irish games.

The American Tailteann Council is under the presidency of Murray Halbert, president of the Board of Aldermen of New York and vice-president of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States. The necessary funds are being contributed by Americans of Irish extraction.

More than one-half of the men and women swimmers, boxers, and wrestlers who have been selected for the American Olympic team are eligible for, and are expected to compete in, the Tailteann games in Ireland.

The Tailteann games, which are a revival of famous games held in Ireland for two thousand years, but which lapsed 700 years ago, have aroused great enthusiasm in athletic circles throughout the world. Competitors will gather from Australia, South Africa, India, China, Canada, England, Scotland, Wales, the Argentine and America.

It is hoped that the American group will be of out-standing strength and will comprise full teams in track and field athletics, swimming, diving, cycling, boxing, hurling, football, rounders (the parents game of baseball), handball, Irish dancing, etc.

In addition to the athletic pursuits the games will comprise competition in music, literature, arts crafts industry, etc.

Batesville Puts Across Winning Run in Game With Rushville

Rushville and Batesville tangled for eleven innings Sunday afternoon in a fast game of baseball, played at Batesville and in the last of the eleventh the Batesville team put across the winning run, and the game ended 4 to 3.

Each team played good ball, and when the ninth inning rolled around, the score was tied at 3. During the game Rushville collected 9 hits and Batesville 8. Fultz and Byr were batteries for Rushville.

The local team will play 4 games Friday, meeting the Anderson Modern Woodman team in each encounter. The first game will be called at 10 a. m. and the afternoon game at 3 p. m.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Barrett, White Sox shortstop. He smashed out four hits in four times up, aiding the Sox to win from the Browns 6 to 5.

The Giants split a twin bill with the Braves yesterday, losing the first 4-1 and taking the second 5-3. In the opening battle Jesse Barnes and Virgil Barnes opposed each other. Tony Kaufmann pulled the Cubs

RALEIGH TIGERS WIN ONE

Defeat New Lisbon Sunday Afternoon by Score of 3 to 2

The Raleigh Tigers won a fast and well played game from New Lisbon at Raleigh Sunday afternoon, by the score of 3 to 2. The victory makes it 7 out of 8 this season for Raleigh. Dunreith will play at Raleigh next Sunday and a good game is expected.

Score by innings:
Raleigh 001 100 001—3
New Lisbon 000 000 020—2
Batteries: Raleigh, M. Craig, and J. Craig; New Lisbon, Vanderbeck, Williams and Walker.

out of their losing streak and the Chicago crowd won from Cincinnati 6-2.

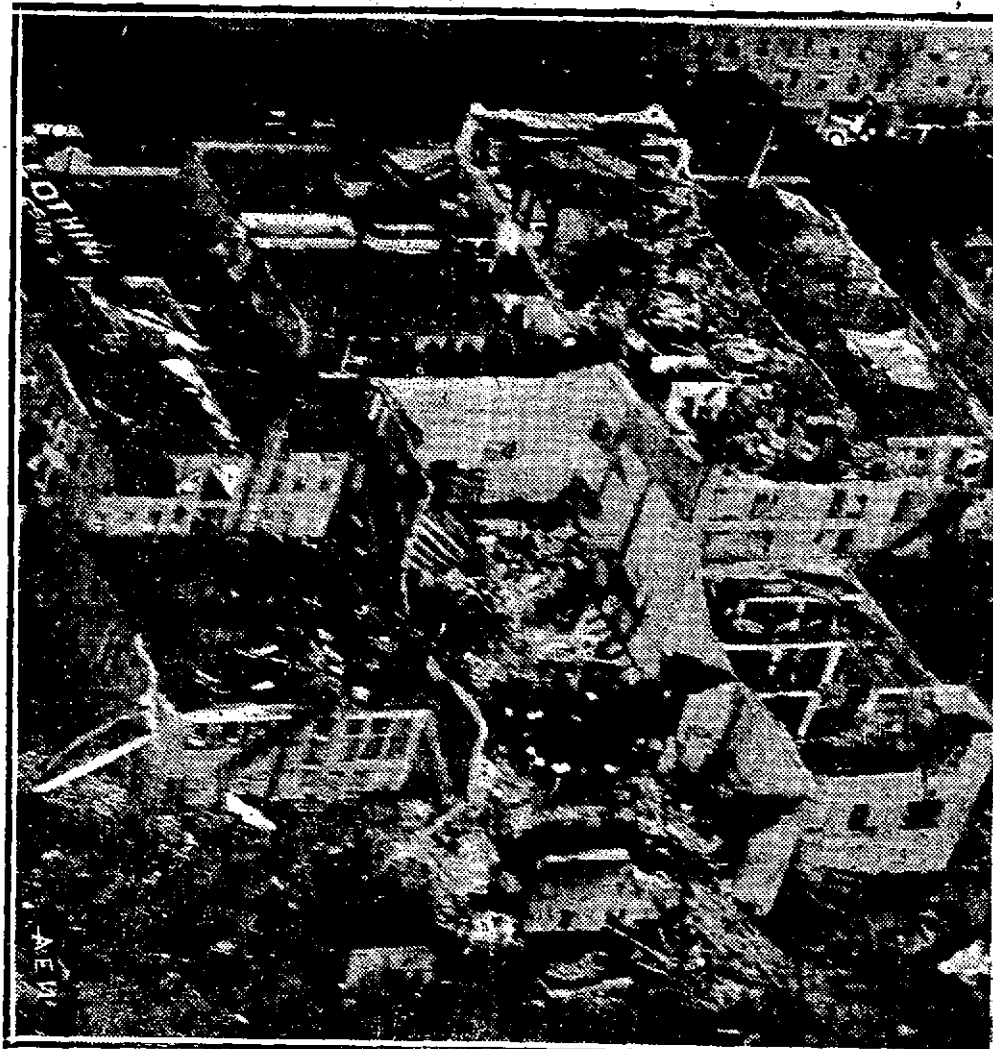

Washington took another hitch on the league leadership by trimming the Red Sox 3-2.

Cobb sent in three moundsmen in an attempt to stop the flow of base hits but was unsuccessful. Cleveland winning 7-3.

A ninth inning rally fell short by one run and the Pirates won from the Cards 6-5.

After battling a 1-1 tie until the tenth, the Phillies and Robins started a bombardment. The Robins won out 5-4.

AIR VIEW OF WRECKED BUSINESS BUILDINGS

The cries of the dying still were rising from the ruins when this photograph was taken from an NEA Service airplane at dawn Sunday at Lorain, Ohio. The white structure in the center is the State Moving Picture Theater where some 150 women and children were trapped beneath falling walls. About 100 dead and injured were believed to be in adjoining ruins when this photograph was taken.

DAYTON PREPARES FOR AIR FLIGHTS

Prizes Totalling $50,000 Will be Offered in Annual Pulitzer Races, Set For October

EXPECT MANY SPEED MACHINES

Dayton, Ohio, June 30—Arrangements are well under way here for the annual International Pulitzer air races, to be staged at the Wilbur Wright field in October.

Several hundred airplanes, capable of going at a speed of 250 miles an hour, will compete for prizes aggregating $50,000.

All highways and streets between Dayton and the field are being paved and 800 regular soldiers from Jefferson barracks will act as special patrol during the events. Dayton business men have subscribed $250,000 for the initial expenses of the races. Thousands of motorists from adjoining states are expected and a plot of 20 acres near the field has been set aside for parking space.

Nearly every state in union will be represented in the races, as well as nearly every European nation. Belgium has promised to send two ships, and England probably will do likewise. Sadi Lecointe, the fastest and highest flyer in France, and Brank Papa of Italy have signified their intention of competing.

The army air service will be represented by the two Curtiss racers which competed last year. They have been equipped with 500-horse-power motors, replacing the 400-horse-power motors used in the 1923 race.

The pilots appointed to maneuver the army airplanes are Lieutenant Alex Pearson and Lieutenant W. H. Brookley, both of McCook Field, and Captain Bert Skeel of Selfridge Field.

There is still some doubt about the navy entering the race this year, although there is a report that it will be represented by a new speed marvel.

The Barling bomber, the biggest ship in the world, is on the program for a series of spectacular flights. Lieutenant Harold R. Harris will be at the stick.

The Pulitzer race will be the main event of the meet, which last three days, beginning October 2. There are ten or twelve other events, including one for small planes, such as those driven by gasoline engines, capable of a long distance flight on a single gallon of gasoline.

For the amateur builders there are six or seven prizes. In addition to the various races, the Shenandoah and a flock of dirigibles, observance and other balloons will be seen in a display of lighter than air machines.

Each evening there will be night flying by illuminated planes.

There has been some concern over the difficulty of housing the hundreds of planes expected to enter the races. Wilbur Wright Field can accommodate about 112, McCook Field about 125 and two private fields about 50 each.

AUSTRALIANS PLAY IN CHAMPIONSHIP

Lend International Aspect to Western Tennis Competition Opening in Indianapolis Today

MANY STARS ARE ENTERED

Indianapolis, Ind., June 30—Australian competition added an international aspect to the thirty eighth annual western tennis championships which started at the Woodstock club today.

The largest gallery of stars ever entered in a court meet outside of Davis cup or national championships was on hand ready to scrap just as hard as if the play was for one of those titles.

With the great array of talent contending in the affair which is held under the sanction of the United States lawn tennis association the championships are expected to outdo all previous racket competition in the middlewest. The program of five events last four days.

Aside from the men's singles event which started today, men's doubles, women's singles and doubles and juniors singles are on the card.

Such stars as Wm. Tilden, Brian Norton, Richard Patterson and R. E. Schelsinger are lending prestige and the dash of brilliance and importance to the journey. Besides these more prominent stars the entry lists contain the names of Alfred Chapin Jr., who has twice this year forced Tilden to five sets, Sandy Weiner, the two McGlynn boys, David O'Laughlin and no less than two score lesser stars.

Hoosier colors will be upheld in the championships by Johnny Hennessey, who is capable of springing a surprise. Sagalowsky and Ralph Burdick.

Among the women entries are the names Leighton, Waldo, Beise, Bailey, Alter and Stewart.

The "western" sands are expected to burn.

"This Freedom"

Long ago, when "woman's place was in the kitchen," they used to say when discussing women in politics: "They'll soon be wearing the trousers." Well, here they are. Miss Ethel Clawans, an attorney of Newark, N. J., appeared at the Democratic convention in "knickers." Why not be comfortable with a scorching convention hall to sit in all day, she demanded.

STATE OF INDIANA 'DEAD' BROKE AGAIN

How to Pay $2,500,000 Debt General Fund—Money Transferred From Benevolent Fund

NEW LOAN TO BE NEGOTIATED

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., June 30—The state today had to pay a $2,500,000 debt against the general fund money borrowed for casual deficits, on Jan. 1 this year.

The finance board transferred two million dollars from the benevolent fund to the general fund today. There was only about 250,000 in the general fund. So the Union Trust Company of Indianapolis will have to wait until Tuesday for the other $250,000.

Tuesday a new loan of $2,500,000 is to be made by the Meyer-Kiser Bank. Two million dollars of it will go back to the benevolent fund, $250,000 to pay the balance of the loan due today and $250,000 to the general fund to run the state on for the next six months.

The state debt is still $4,890,000 borrowed from the highway department, Purdue University and the auto theft fund.

Shelbyville—Palmyra palmed off a dirty deal to Russel Higgins. A fortune teller told him he would be involved in general court actions. First he was fined on a speeding charge; sued for damages resulting from an auto accident; and sued for divorce by his wife. Now he has been arrested for stealing a windshield.

Franklin—Albert Morrell of Clayton, Ind., has presented more than 600 volumes of Shakespeare to the Franklin College library. Many rare volumes are included.

ed with a card party Sunday evening at their home in this city. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gale, Mr. and Mrs. John Courty, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mullin, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gantner, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Schrader, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Cleary.

Mrs. Leonora Blackledge was a charming hostess Sunday at high noon when she entertained with a fried chicken dinner honoring Mrs. W. J. Russell of Frankfort, Ind., the house guest of Mrs. Dan Matlock. Covers were laid for Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Matlock and daughter Miss Helen, Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas, Miss Laura Alexander and Mrs. W. A. Allen. Mrs. Russell's husband was a former pastor of the Main Street Christian church.

The 4 H Club of Noble township will meet at the school building on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. The Cold Pack bulletin should be studied so that it may be discussed during the meeting, it is announced. A name for the club will be selected and songs and yells will be practiced. Refreshments and an entertainment will be provided by the hostess, the Misses Esther Grubbs, Lorene Gruell, Mary Heaton and Thelma Harbert. The presence of all the members is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Newhouse and daughter Martha Jean entertained with a bounteous pitch-in dinner at high noon Sunday at their country home northwest of the city, honoring the birthday anniversaries of six members of the family, namely, Orban and William G. Richard and Robert Waggoner and Esther Waggoner Newhouse and Martha Jean Newhouse. The afternoon was spent socially with games and contests. Those present for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Waggoner and son Lowell, Mr. and Mrs. Orban Waggoner and son William, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Waggoner and son Richard and Christian and Dallas Bebout of this city and Samuel Russell of Cincinnati, Ohio.

The 4 H Club of Richland township held a meeting last Thursday afternoon at the home of Martha Scott in Richland. Eleven members were present. The guests present were Miss Dora McKay, Mrs. Robert Humphrey and Mrs. Fred Pike. The entertainment consisted of a group of songs by Thelma and Elizabeth Miller, a reading by Ruth Pike, song by Martha and Jimmie Scott and a solo by Bertha Humphrey. Then the business session was held, after which they were led in club songs by the cheer leader. Refreshments of fruit salad, cake, lemonade and pop corn were served. A social hour following will be held in two weeks at the home of Helen and Dorothy Pike. An entertainment will be given and refreshments will be served.

MAY CALL PUPILS TO BE WITNESSES

Wives, Children and Wealthy Business Men, Who Studied Under Young Leopold to be Examined

REGARDING HIS SANITY
Accused Chicago Boy Conducted Private Classes in Ornithology, and Earned Spending Money

(By United Press)
Chicago June 30.—Learning that Nathan Leopold, Jr., one of the confessed slayers of 14-year old Robert Frank, was a "professor" of ornithology—conducting classes in bird life among families of wealth—the office of state's attorney Robert E. Crowe today announced several of Leopold's "pupils" would be called for questioning. Leopold, it was learned, made his "spending money" by organizing classes in bird life. Wives and children and wealthy Chicago business men were enrolled. In addition to drawing room lectures Leopold took his classes on tours of the parks to study birds and their habits.
"We will examine these so-called pupils of Leopold," an attorney of the state's attorney's office said. "They may give us additional knowledge concerning Leopold's life and probably many of them will be able to testify that he was sane."
The defense, hoping to save Leopold and his co-defendant, Richard Loeb, from the gallows, was busy yesterday preparing its case which will be built around a plan that the boys are insane and not responsible for the crime. Data accumulated by Dr. Karl M. Bowman and Dr. H. S. Helbert, alienists retained by the defense, was being condensed for use in the trial, scheduled to start August 4.

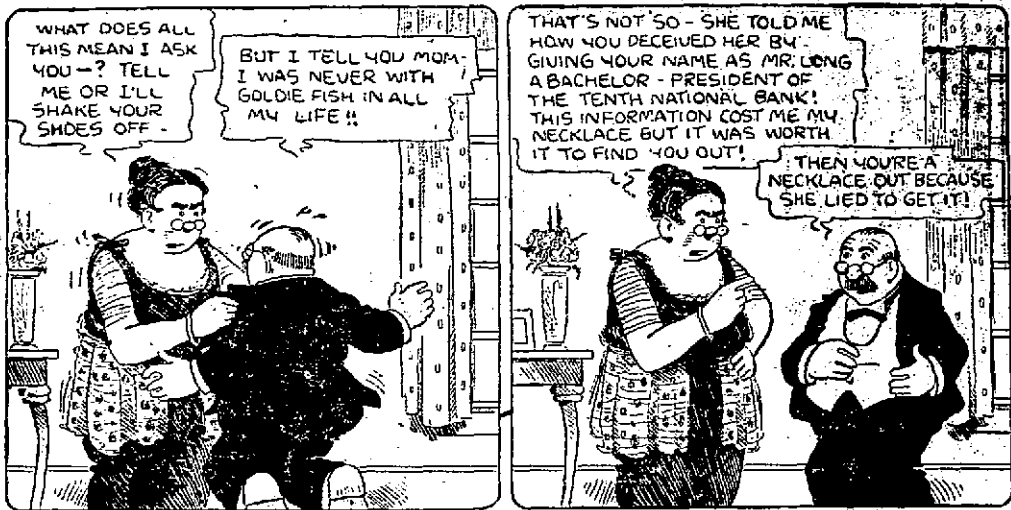

MOVIES

"The Blizzard" at Mystic
Under the title "The Blizzard," William Fox is presenting the picture version of "The Story of a Country House," by Selma Lagerlof, winner of the Nobel prize for literature. The production comes to the Mystic theatre today for two days.
Mary Johnson, known as the Mary Pickford of Europe, has the leading role as Ingrid, the little violinist of the wandering circus. Einar Hanson portrays Gunnar Hede, the young artist who loses his mind in the terror of a stampede or reindeer during a terrific blizzard. Others in the principal roles are Pauline Brunius, Teckle Ahlander, Adolf Olchansky, and Stina Berg, all well known Swedish artists.
The story tells of the love of a boy for his violin, which brought love for a girl, because she too loved her fiddle. There are a maternalistic mother and an idealistic son. Then, too, there are Blomgren and his wife, who entertain the village folks by their droll clownings on the green. The reindeer stampede and the blizzard are said to be among the most impressive scenes ever caught by a camera.

Rod La Roque and Jacqueline Logan are featured in the Paramount picture, "Code of the Sea," at the Princess theatre Monday and Tuesday.
The picture was adapted from an original screen story by B. Morgan, prominent magazine writer. The story has to do with the regeneration of a coward, a theme not unlike that of James Cruze's "The Fighting Coward," but with entirely different treatment. Directed by Victor Fleming, "Code of the Sea" should prove one of the most interesting films of the current season. It has a great cast, an appealing story, heart-interest and everything else—and it's

AL SMITH'S DEMONSTRATION

Here's how Madison Square Garden appeared at the height of the demonstration for Al Smith. Thousands joined in the song of "Sidewalks of New York" as bands played the famous Tammany marching song. "East Side, West Side" men and women shouted until they were hoarse. And outside on the streets many thousands were gathered to celebrate in honor of Smith.

a novelty in that practically every scene is an exterior, and about every two out of three of these is a water shot.
If you liked Rod La Roque in "The Ten Commandments," "Triumph," "A Society Scandal," and the rest, you'll rave over him in this one. He's one of the few leading men on the screen, who are more than just pretty boys. And you haven't seen Jacqueline Logan at her best until you've seen "Code of the Sea."
Your ship of joy with its cargo of thrills will come in when you see this one!

by the Arlington band, followed by a delegation of ladies riding on horses. The Royal Neighbors will have their float followed by the Woman's Relief Corps and the G. A. R. organizations. In this contingent all ladies' organizations, clubs and religious societies are invited to take part and be represented. All persons in this division will assemble on the avenue, above Second street.
In the next division, the Rushville Old Fellows Band will lead the procession. Following the band will be the children from the Old Fellows home at Greensburg. About sixty of the children will be in machines, and will be guests here that day.
This division will be the largest division of any, as behind the Old Fellows children, will come all of the fraternal and religious floats, the Boy scout drum corps and boy scouts, then the industrial floats. The New Salem band will be next in order, and bringing up the rear of the parade will be decorated machines, and automobiles used for advertising purposes by the dealers in the county. All of this contingent will meet in West Third street beyond the Pennsylvania railroad.
The marshals in charge of the parade announced today that the procession would leave the starting point promptly at one o'clock and that all organizations should be in their positions, and ready to move.

Motion picture machines will be stationed at several places to get the parade in action.
After the parade reaches the park, Senator Watson will deliver the address in the coliseum. The drills and other events for the Woodman teams will follow the speaking at the park, and will be open for public inspection. Daylight fireworks will be held after the drills, and several band stands will be built in the park to provide music throughout the afternoon.

WESLEY M. E. CHURCH

RUN-DOWN WEAK, NERVOUS

Benefited by First Bottle of
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Lancaster, Pa.—"After I was married I became terribly run-down and was weak and nervous. My sister-in-law told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My husband got me a bottle at once, and it did me so much good that I kept on taking it. I began to feel well and strong again and was able to do my housework up to the time my baby was born—a nice fat little girl in the best of health. I surely am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends when they have troubles like mine, and I am perfectly willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."

—Mrs. FRANK H. CARMI, 523 Locust Street, Lancaster, Pa.

Women should heed such symptoms as pains, backache, nervousness, a run-down condition and irregularity, as they indicate some form of female trouble.

This idea prepared men for leadership in the church and for the American Revolution, and is transforming the world.

"French refugees went back from Switzerland to France and organized the French Reformed church, out of which grew the Huguenots, who fled to America for religious liberty.

"This is only an outgrowth of that heroic blow struck by Luther which went resounding throughout all Europe and changed the religious life of Germany.

"In Scotland the struggle against Rome was long but was finally established on Calvinistic grounds by John Knox. Government by Presbyterians in which the people took part became so strongly established that it could not be changed."

The speaker also pointed out that God was the captain of our Forefathers in religious leadership. He followed briefly the history of the early settlers in America. They were Baptists, Congregationalists, Presbyterians Catholics and Episcopalians. These had their form of church government for which corresponds four kinds of national government.

The great majority of the colonists came from countries influenced by the theology of Calvin and a church government brought to the front by John Knox. They were largely Scotch Irish, French, German, and Dutch Reformed. Their form of government in church was the equality of members and ministers.

Calvin in his home on the banks of Lake Geneva in Switzerland made possible government of the people, by the people, for the people. D'Aubigne said, "Calvin was the founder of the greatest of republics."

Bancroft said: "He that will not honor the memory and respect the influence of Calvin knows but little of American history."

These religious ideas took form in a Presbyterian system of church government with its session, Presbytery and General Assembly, the pastor said. Chief Justice Tisdeman says: "The framers of the Constitution of the United States borrowed much of the form our representation from the Constitution of the Presbyterian church of Scotland."

Bancroft, the historian says: "The revolution of 1776 so far as it was effected by religion was a Presbyterian measure. It was the natural outgrowth of the principles which the Presbyterianism of the Old World planted in her sons and daughters the English Puritans, the Scotch Covenanters, the French Huguenots the Dutch Calvinists and the Presbyterians of Ulster."

The first Declaration of Independence was by the Mecklenburg Assembly at Charlotte, North Carolina which was composed of twenty-seven staunch Calvinists of whom nine were Presbyterian ruling elders and one a Presbyterian preacher. This was one year before the Continental Congress declared itself free from England. In that congress Dr. John Witherspoon, a Presbyterian preacher, and the only clergyman in the Congress, lifted his voice in favor of separation and cast the deciding vote.

"When you are celebrating our national birthday next Friday," said the Rev. Mr. Wilson, "remember the religious background out of which has grown our great nation and praise God for those who with a great faith brought to us the religious and national liberty which we so much enjoy."

St. Paul's Church

"What's All the World Talking About?" was the subject of the morning sermon delivered by the Rev. H. W. Hargett at the St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal church Sunday morning. His text was taken from Matthew 16:2, 3 "When it is evening, ye say, it will be fair weather for the sky is red. And in the morning it will be foul weather today for the heaven is red and lowering." He said in part:

What's all the world talking about? That which it was talking about when Christ was on Earth—the weather. He made it the subject of a sermon. May I not do the same? If it is the daily theme of conversation for most of the people of earth, may it not form the subject of one sermon, especially as it touches the deep questions of life and of God's relation to the world? Let us look at it as a fact, a figure and a philosophy.

As a stern fact we must deal with the weather. It is not always what men or angels might desire, but God uses it as a means of moral training. The plant called man owes as much to bad weather and to the consequent struggle for life as it does to good weather. It is the storms that call forth the noble, the heroic, the kindly elements of human nature. Where all skies are cloudless, all days radiant, you have only a desert. The richest harvests of earth are not of wheat or oats or hay or alfalfa, they are harvests of the mind and soul of man. Things leap to the light out of the depths of man's soul, when he battles with the storm that he knows not of in the sunshine. This is a world for growing men, and with that end in view it requires all kinds of weather.

As a figure the weather stands for the things that we cannot change. We must accept it as it comes and make the best of it. Mark Twain's most famous after dinner speech was on "New England Weather." He began by saying "Everybody is always talking about the weather but nobody has ever done anything about it. While we are reforming everything else in the world, why not reform the weather? No reason, except, that we cannot. Thus with many of the fortunes and misfortunes of life, they are beyond our power to alter. Why not then accept them as good or bad weather and make the best of them?"

As a philosophy the weather suggests that if we cannot control the winds that sweep across our fields and farms, we can control the winds that sweep across our minds and souls. We can by divine help be weather makers within if we cannot be weather makers without. When the storm was at its height the other day and a river of water was flowing down Morgan street I noticed a robin in the apple tree back of the parsonage singing in the rain. He seemed to pour forth his very soul in song. He was making his own weather. He was adding to that song and cheer whose music is the gladness of the world. If we can't make good weather within and sing for the very indwelling joy of our own hearts, then get a view from above the shifting winds and changing clouds. There the weather is constant, there the sun forever shines. The clouds may band their draperies across the skies but about them is the One with whom is no variability, neither shadow that is cast in turning. From Christ we may learn the secret of living above the weather world. He taught the secret of soul serenity. He opened to men the sources of spiritual power and enabled them to enter into his own place. Peace I leave with you. My peace I give unto you. Not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

"Above the surge of din of life, Above its sorrow and its strife, From out the blissful realm above, I feel the floodings of God's love."

In the evening the choir and orchestra gave a very fine musical program.

First Baptist Church

The closing program of the Daily Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church was rendered before a splendid and appreciative audience Sunday night. The exercise was simply a demonstration of the usual daily program which has been carried out for the past three weeks of the school session. Beside the usual opening and closing exercises, there was a demonstration of the scripture memory work by each group and two dramatizations of Bible stories. The kindergarten pupils in charge of Miss Mary Stewart dramatized the story of Moses. Dramatization of the story of Joseph was rendered by the second division of the primary department under the direction of Miss Kathleen Hobbs. Both dramatizations were well received.

A report of enrollment and attendance showed a few more than eighty enrolled and an average attendance of sixty. Each morning an offering was made for the Crawford Industrial School, the home for Baptist orphans of Indiana. A pint fruit jar was used to receive the offering and it was filled during the three weeks with a total offering of $8.13.

All the teachers and helpers gave their service without financial compensation and the church furnished all the material for the craft work which was on display at the close of the program.

This is the first year that the church has fostered a Vacation School, which from present indications, will be an annual part of the church program during the coming years.
